BUDGET TAX CHANGES KNOWN BY SUPPER TIME

OTTAWA — Finance Minister Fleming was scheduled to start at 8 p.m. (5 p.m., PST) tonight on his "baby" budget speech to the Commons. After a review of financial conditions he was expected to get down to his taxation proposals—possibly some reductions by 9 p.m. (6 p.m., PST).

UN Deadlocked Over Congo But Operation to Continue

Rival Plans Voted Down

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—The United Nations General Assembly ran into a deadlock on the Congo crisis today when it was unable to agree on either of two rival proposals before it.

One of the resolutions, sponsored by the United States and Britain, failed by one vote to get the required two-thirds majority. The other, backed by India and a group of Asian and African countries, was roundly beaten.

The vote on the Western plan, directing Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld to continue his Congo policies, was 43-22 with 32 abstaining. The Indian proposal received 28 in favor, 42 against and 27 abstentions. This called for UN action to get the release of deposed premier Patrice Lumumba and for neutralization of the Congolese army.

Canada for West

Canada voted for the Western resolution and against the Afro-Asian proposal.

After the vote, Hammarskjöld was glad as he told the assembly he regretted that it had not given him "the moral or political support" he hoped for in solving the Congo dilemma.

However, he announced that the Congo operation will continue as before. He said the failure of the assembly to act did not invalidate previous decisions.

The secretary-general appealed for continued co-operation of all countries.

Faced with the deadlock, the assembly unanimously approved an Austrian proposal that the Congolese item be placed on the agenda of the session that will be resumed March 7.

Stiff Attitude

The Congo voting came as the assembly sought to close shop for its long holiday recess.

The assembly Monday night heard a warning from Hammarskjöld that he might ask for power to withdraw the 20,000-man UN force from the Congo if civil war broke out.

Behind his legalistic phrases could be detected a steadily stiffening attitude as he declared that the force could not "interpose itself" or remain passive in a civil war.

In another development Monday night, the assembly adopted a resolution recognizing UN responsibility in helping to promote independence for Algeria.

However, the assembly deleted a key provision sought by Algerian rebel leaders and their Afro-Asian supporters, that would have had the UN guarantee the honesty of a referendum that French President de Gaulle has promised to decide Algeria's future.

NOW DRIVERS CAN SMIRK

EDMONTON (CP) — The pedestrian lost some of his Edmonton street-crossing privileges in a bylaw passed by city council Monday night.

It now is an offence for a pedestrian to either loiter or run in a crosswalk.

The onus is placed on the pedestrian to look to his own safety.

The motorist must yield only when he considers that his car endangers the safety of the walker. He is no longer obliged to stop when the pedestrian steps down from the curb.

Baby Burns in Crib

CALGARY (CP) — A 13-month-old child was burned to death in his crib Monday night as his young parents were out shopping for a Christmas tree.

Fatal Coffee Break

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Five young men, apparently taking time off their jobs for a coffee break, were killed Monday night when their car was ground to bits under a Winnipeg-bound Great Northern Railroad passenger train.

NEHRU
... "acute crisis"

India May Quit Congo — Nehru

NEW DELHI (Reuters) — Prime Minister Nehru said today India's contribution of personnel to the United Nations mission in the Congo may be withdrawn unless it is allowed to do its job.

At the same time, he criticized Ghana's suggestion for an African military command to take direct action in the troubled African state.

Nehru told Parliament that he could not guarantee to keep India's 300 non-combat personnel in the Congo unless they are properly treated and allowed to do the work they were sent to do.

DISLIKES NKURUMAH IDEA

Nehru said that if Ghana President Kwame Nkrumah's idea for an all-African Congo force was implemented, it would be "inevitable that other forces would come into play from other countries."

Nehru said India hesitates to withdraw her troops because this would mean the collapse of the UN operation—although "there are limits to what a country can put up with."

"I have a feeling we have arrived at the most acute crisis in world history and an acute crisis in the future of the United Nations."

Nehru repeated India's demand for a meeting of the Congolese parliament.

Burma Pulls Team Out

RANGOON (AP) — Prime Minister U Nu announced today the Burmese government has decided to withdraw its six-man military team from the United Nations force in the Congo because Congolese authorities could not ensure sufficient protection.

Eager XI Ready to Go in Christmas Day Bowl Game

Alert, anxious for victory (but not necessarily trained) 11 little doggies have reached the six-week mark just in time for Christmas adoption from their nursery at the SPCA small-animal shelter on Wilson, just off Tyee Road. The odds are 6 to 5 on the males, but there's nothing wrong with the weaker sex, who often prove stronger. SPCA also has selection of more adult dogs, ready to take up serious duties of running household, providing companionship for the youngsters. Any one can be yours in time for Christmas giving by paying modest adoption fee, which helps SPCA in its work.

CARRIER FIRE PROBE

'Cheap' Wood Scaffold Defended by U.S. Navy

NEW YORK (UPI) — Navy Secretary William Franke said today the $75 million fire that swept the aircraft super carrier Constellation may force the navy to eliminate other ships in its current building program.

Franke made a personal inspection of the damage caused by a roaring fire Monday which claimed 47 lives and delayed completion of the 60,000-ton carrier at least nine months.

Three admirals were named by the navy to conduct an investigation of the blaze. Among the things they will try to determine is whether combustible wooden scaffolding which contributed to the fire was used for economy reasons.

Franke, after his inspection, said the navy was faced with two alternatives—asking Congress for more money to repair the Constellation, or curtailing the building of other vessels.

Rear Admiral Schuyler N. Pyne, commander of the navy yard, told reporters the navy's decision to use wooden scaffolding was "made many years ago."

"It has always been used on navy ships," Pyne said.

jet fuel, as the navy originally announced.

A spokesman said today the oil was used to operate generators that provide electric power for the ship.

MINISTERS SHOT DOWN, ENVOY FLED BY WINDOW

ADDIS ABABA (AP) — Rebels armed with machine-guns burst into a room of the Imperial Palace last week and moved down 18 cabinet ministers, it was disclosed today.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur Richards said he was conferring with 20 ministers at the palace when the rebels broke in. The ambassador escaped through a window.

Fifteen of the ministers were killed. Three were seriously wounded. Two were unhurt.

Soviet to Spend Less on Defence

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Russia's chief economic planner and its finance minister today promised the Soviet people a lighter burden of military spending and more consumer goods in 1961.

Planning Chief Vladimir Novikov and Finance Minister Vasily Garbuzov outlined their plans for 1961 and next year's budget in reports to members of Russia's Supreme Soviet parliament.

Garbuzov told the party and government chiefs that military spending would be cut next year to 11.9 per cent of the total budget expenditure, from 12.9 per cent this year.

But Garbuzov announced a 15.7 per cent increase in Soviet expenditure on science, apparently aimed at keeping

Russia ahead in the space race.

Novikov said capital investment in light consumer industry would be increased by 50 per cent in 1961.

Novikov claimed Russia again gained ground this year in its drive to catch up with the United States in industrial production. He said industrial output increased more than 30 per cent in Russia between 1958 and 1960 while American production went up only eight per cent.

Russia still is a long way behind the United States in total output, however. Novikov said that in 1959 Soviet production amounted to only about 60 per cent of the American total.

'CHILDREN OF INDIA'

Waifs Will Bless You

A procession of wretched, ragged children is stretching out to you.

Some bear crutches; many have scabies; all are thin and hungry.

They are quiet children. The abuse of society on their short lives has already taken a stunning toll. Starvation saps energy and life itself.

These are India's waifs, millions of them.

So-called self-made persons might ask "why" the country itself can't look after its own obligations relating to poor youngsters.

The answer is simple: Until India learns to pull itself up by the proverbial bootstraps in a self-help program, the innumerable impoverished and sick will not only remain, but will increase along with the burgeoning population.

The Times is turning over money donated by Greater Victorians to the Unitarian Service Committee to assist in bringing about self-help.

Children are cleaned, fed, housed, taught and administered medically. From this program is springing leaders who will tell their fellow-men how to obtain a higher living standard, how to work it and how to keep it.

India is wealthiest in one thing: people, better than 400,000,000. Until this resource is fully utilized no maize-field concept of self-help is going to be of much importance.

Waiting still to be tapped are as-yet unheard-of industries, and the complete thinking development of the people. Contributing to leadership is the USC, and those who give to the current appeal.

It all reflects back on the children. As these go, so goes one-seventh of the world's population.

And, Christmas is coming. Food provided by a Christian for a Christian, is of no more value than food provided by a Christian to a Hindu.

And there are also Christian children in India who ache from hunger pangs.

You can, if you care, give the USC way—undenominational, internationally, humanly.

A child will bless you, and Canada, and God.

There are just eight days left to contribute to the Times Children of India Fund.

Last year close to $7,000 was raised and it is hoped to exceed this amount in the present campaign.

Cheques and money can be sent to the Times offices at 1215 Broad or 2631 Douglas.

FORGET PEP PILLS... ... YULE FEEL BETTER

LONDON (UPI) — Feeling low and depressed? Forget the pep pills or tranquilizers and enjoy Christmas, the British medical journal, Medical Press, advised today.

Christmas, said the publication, is a time when doctors' waiting rooms are empty, when neuroses disappear, and "even ward sisters (nurses) become virtually undistinguishable from other human beings."

"Common experience teaches us," Medical Press said, "that the health of the community takes a remarkable turn for the better shortly before Christmas, and however flippantly we may record the fact, it is not without importance."

Medical Press suggested some of the reasons for the happy effect of Christmas on public health, saying:

"There is a break from routine and from work that is frequently enough boring. There is communion with the family and with friends; conviviality, jollity, with a certain ingestion of the most ancient tranquilizer, suitably disguised and flavored, but basically alcohol. There is the singular expression of generosity in dispensing gifts."

In fact, said Medical Press, Christmas is such a good thing for everybody it should happen more than once a year.

ANTI-AUSTERITY STRIKE SLOWS BELGIAN CITIES

BRUSSELS (Reuters) — Strikes in protest against a government plan for economic expansion through austerity crippled all major towns in Belgium today, affecting public services, teachers and the port of Antwerp.

The strike was called by the opposition Socialists for an indefinite period.

Thousands of workers paraded through the streets of Antwerp to a mass protest in the town's main square.

BIG MONEY BINGO DRAWS RECORD CROWD $7,000 Prizes Awarded

A record crowd of 8,000 crammed into Victoria's Memorial Arena Monday for the 22nd Kinsmen's giant bingo night while a further 1,500 persons were turned away at the doors.

Of those admitted, 200 had to stand up all evening for lack of seating.

With the chance of winning $10,000 in 14 games, winners and runners-up collected more than $7,000, together with a further $500 given to 10 patrons who bought their tickets before Dec. 10. More than 100 turkeys were given away.

The two top prizes of $1,000 each were won by Gordon Adams, of 17 Game Road, and Miss Lily Mar, of 6275 Old West Saanich Road, who works in a city restaurant.

SIX DAUGHTERS

Mr. Adams, a welder, took three of his six daughters with him to the game while his wife, Beverly, remained at home to look after the other three. He won his prize about 9 p.m. but waited till it was all over before he went home to tell Mrs. Adams.

Mr. Adams barely missed winning a car in an earlier Kinsmen Bingo. He was a finalist but lost the playoff.

Miss Mar was confident of a win—she even put off buying her Christmas presents before Monday night.

FIRST GAME

Mrs. Mary Reinstein, 1345 Mount Douglas Cross Road, was one of 22 players who completed their cards in the first game. However, she was eliminated in the playoff, but when she went to collect her $10 consolation prize was offered the top prize of $500. Her name had been listed as winner by mistake.

Winners of $500 prizes were Mrs. M. Grimston, 2904 Scott Street; Mrs. H. Shaw, 1850 Simpson; and Linda Edge, 4121 Carey Road.

Winners of $100 prizes were Mrs. Doris Webb, 2588 Hayward; Alan Wilmhurst, 1149 Herald Avenue; C. F. Wyatt, 1126 McLure; J. W. Rose, 3126 Balfour; Robert Bailey, 1850 Dean Park; Sidney, and Joe Kules, 861 Canterbury.

Jack Phillips, bingo committee chairman for all 22 of the giant bingos, was honored with a life membership during the evening.

NEW YORK (AP)—Investigators speculated today that the pilot of a jet airliner may have made a desperate last-second effort to avert the tragic collision with another passenger plane over New York last Friday—and failed by a wingtip.

The investigators, it was learned, projected the possibility that the jet pilot banked his plane sharply to the left and downward, only to have the right wingtip slice through the other craft's underbelly and virtually cut the plane in two.

However, the investigators emphasized that many more things must be learned before final conclusions can be drawn.

Saw Actual Crash on Radar Screen

The radarman noted that the other blips on his screen then seemed to merge and pursued a straight line until a second blip fell off in "a slight right hook and disappeared."

What the operator apparently had seen on his screen—

although he didn't know it at the time—was history's worst aviation disaster.

The plane he had warned was a Trans World Airlines Constellation heading for LaGuardia. The "blip" approaching the TWA propeller-driven craft at 3 o'clock, or off his starboard wing, was a United Air Lines DC-8 jet liner.

The jet, mortally wounded, crashed into a residential area in Brooklyn. The stricken TWA plane came down on Staten Island. The disaster took at least 135 lives of passengers and Brooklyn residents.

Gen. Elwood Quesada, Federal Aviation Agency administrator, said Monday in Washington that the jet was 11 miles from where it should have been when it collided with the TWA plane.

TRANSISTOR TO BLAME?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An air safety expert suggested today that a passenger listening to a transistor radio might have caused a United Airlines DC-8 to stray off course and collide with a TWA Constellation over New York City last week.

The Flight Safety Foundation, a private aviation research organization, has warned that certain types of transistor equipment will cause the electronic course indicators on airliner instrument panels to malfunction.

Winter Works 'Patchwork'

Job Solution House Told

(From Times News Service)

OTTAWA—Eight black bound books tell the story of the government's $30,000,000 winter works program to fight seasonal unemployment in Canada.

Labor Minister Starr kept them arrayed neatly before him as he defended the winter works 'estimate' in the Commons against a "we-like-it-but" attack from Liberals and CCF critics.

The books, said Mr. Starr, show "exactly what has been happening in every city, town and province under this program."

The $30,000,000 measure under which the federal treasury puts up half the payroll cost for approved works programs—was described by Mr. Starr as "the most extensive construction program ever undertaken in the field of federal, provincial and municipal co-operation."

"This measure is one of a series . . . designed to maintain economic stability and to provide employment," he said. "When taken together these

Prime Minister Diefenbaker had no Christmas cheer for MPs who might like a pay raise.

He told members that no consideration has been given to boosting the annual indemnity of $8,000 for members of Parliament.

The government will prosecute bankruptcy trustees involved in estates and tighten up the Bankruptcy Act, Justice Minister Fulton said.

He spoke while asking for Commons approval of a $50,000 vote to pay for special lawyers and accountants hired to untangle irregularities.

Mr. Fulton gave no details and spoke only in general terms about the bankruptcy cases. He said, however, they dated from prior to 1957, when the Conservatives were elected.

The RCMP was instructed to seize files. One prosecutor was originally intended to handle the court cases.

But when the department looked further into the cases it found "so many hundreds of estates involved," and the web so tangled, additional legal and accountancy service was needed.

Mr. Fulton said none of the cases of irregularities with trustees in bankruptcy was in B.C. He would consider if discharges from bankruptcy are given too leniently by the courts.

Provision of any new airport facilities at Vancouver is the responsibility of the city, Transport Minister Balcer said.

In reply to John Drysdale (PC—Burnaby-Richmond), he said that he still believes it would be suitable for his department to assume responsibility for the airport. The government had made a fair

INDIA VOTES DISPUTED LAND TO PAKISTAN

NEW DELHI (AP) — The Indian government rammed through Parliament today a controversial bill to amend the constitution and permit transfer of 4½ square miles of territory to Pakistan.

The bill was bitterly resented in Calcutta and throughout the state of West Bengal, where all shops and private transport closed for the day in protest. The transfer involves partition of the so-called Berubari Union, heretofore part of West Bengal.

Prime Minister Nehru agreed to the transfer in September, 1958, at a meeting with Prime Minister Feroz Khan Noon which helped bring peace to the disputed border.

CANADA LOSES VOTE, BUT

'Lost' Proposal Stirs UN

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — Although beaten on a procedural vote, the Canadian delegation can boast as the 15th United Nations General Assembly goes into recess today that at least it focussed some attention on disarmament.

Spokesmen for the delegation—badly trounced Monday in an attempt to get a prompt vote on its disarmament proposal—look the attitude that the fight wasn't really lost in view of the amount of dust it kicked up.

Indian Defence Minister V. K. Krishna Menon engineered the defeat by which the assembly's political committee turned down Canada's request for an immediate vote by a roll-call of 29 to 16 with 26 abstentions.

Canada had hoped that something could be salvaged on disarmament from this session of the UN—that it would not be left in abeyance until the assembly resumes its meeting March 7.

Canadian diplomats felt that the spirited debate provoked by Canada's initiative Monday was a healthy sign despite the defeat. This was interpreted as one reason why the Canadians pressed for a vote upon

Rejecting Menon's charges that the Canadian resolution was "unrealistic" and "inappropriate," delegation vice-chairman Wallace B. Nesbitt said one paragraph in particular should be voted on to prevent a hiatus lasting until March 7. This section would have the

1. Ways and means of facilitating the early resumption of negotiations on disarmament under effective international control.
2. The essential principles which should guide these negotiations.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator John Kennedy was elected president of the United States Monday—officially.

There was no revolt of Kennedy electors, such as some Democrats had tried to organize in the southern states.

The electoral college, 537 persons parcelled out among the 50 states more or less in proportion to their population, turned Kennedy's one-tenth of one per cent popular vote margin over Nixon into a substantial margin of electoral votes, the ones that count.

The Whipping Boy

THE FACT THAT A SMALL coterie of university professors has lost confidence in Mr. James Coyne, governor of the Bank of Canada, is interesting, but of itself quite unimportant. These critics, like others, would be more convincing if they said why they do not trust Mr. Coyne's judgment as the administrator of Canada's monetary system, if they gave any reason for their distrust. So far they have given none, and their public attack has fallen flat.

The criticism of those who are candid enough to say what they mean about Mr. Coyne's policies comes under two heads.

First, certain bankers and financial men believe that the management of the central bank rate should be changed. At present the rate is fixed under rigid mathematical formula by the weekly price that the federal Government must pay for short-term borrowings called treasury bills.

This means that the central bank of Canada, unlike the central banks of most countries, does not fix the bank rate. It merely adds up the weekly figures. There is a great deal to be said for the proposition that the bank should fix its own rate, not by mathematical formula, but as it sees fit; that the rate, as in Britain, should be a declaration by the central bank in favor of looser or tighter credit.

The second criticism is that Mr. Coyne favors a policy of tight money when a looser policy is required to stimulate business. Here honest men may differ in a national situation of utmost complexity. But when Mr. Coyne's critics say that we need what they call "easy money" they are bound to say what they mean exactly. This they seldom say, but their meaning is clear. By "easy money" they simply mean that Mr. Coyne should create more money by the old, familiar method of monetary inflation.

Mr. Coyne thinks that already his bank has created plenty of extra money. It undertook a large inflation of the currency (in the form of credit) some two years ago to provide money to buy up the Government's bonds, unsaleable otherwise. In fact, he rescued the Government from a desperate crisis created by its huge deficits when it had to borrow to pay its bills.

Apparently the Government is retreating again to deficit finance, probably on a large scale. It will have to issue more bonds and find buyers for them. This may not be easy. But it would be easy, Mr. Coyne's critics say, if he would only make money easy, i.e. print more of it.

Then, it is said, interest rates would fall because there would be more money to bid for Government bonds and force their price upward.

That is doubtless true, in the short run. Mr. Coyne knows, however, as every economist knows, that this process could not go very far.

If the central bank creates more money at the expense of undermining confidence in all money there will follow a flight of investors away from bonds into equities, or common stocks, as a hedge against inflation. Then, with less money left to bid for bonds, their price will fall again and interest rates will rise.

To judge if, when, and to what extent more money should be created is a nice and tantalizing decision for experts. It is not a question to be settled by slogans, headlines and off-the-cuff speeches.

As to the complaint that Mr. Coyne is keeping the Canadian dollar too high on the international exchanges, to the damage of our exporters, it must be remembered that he does not fix that value. It is fixed solely by the market in countless transactions every day.

To be sure, Mr. Coyne could reduce the value of the Canadian dollar instantly by printing more money, using it to bid for American dollars and thus, in the result, debasing the Canadian dollar. That would help our exporters for the time being all right, but it would raise the cost of all imports, the cost of living, the cost of producing everything in Canada—the last thing we should desire.

The central fact today is that we can find no solution for the monetary problem (which is only an expression of deeper economic problems) until we decide as a nation to keep our production costs down, our goods competitive, at home and abroad.

An Eye on Canada's Storehouse

THOUGH INVENTORIES OF North American natural resources tend to be confusing because of the contradictions which emerge from time to time, a recently published document in the United States carries particular interest for this country.

"The Future of Industrial Raw Materials in North America," written by Wilbert G. Fritz of the United States Office of Civil Defence Mobilization, sees Canada as the great storehouse for some years to come.

North American resources vital to industry are dwindling, says the report. To plug serious gaps in raw material sources that nourish industry in the United States, our neighbors will have to rely increasingly on us.

American industry will look to Canada for iron ore, nickel, petroleum, coal, natural gas and other items.

This implies a large new market for Canada and extensive development.

The report, paralleling in some respects a monumental investigation shortly after the war, will be viewed, of course, in the light of others before it.

Some have implied a critical depletion of resources, others have suggested a plentiful supply far above conservative estimates.

But whatever the reports still to come, indicate, the inventory made by Mr. Fritz emphasizes the need for a national policy in Canada which will give major attention to sensible conservation and the avoidance of uneconomic exploitation.

Some resources, like minerals, can be mined only once. Others, the great resources of the forest, the soil and the sea, can be replenished, if we, as Canadians are wise enough to renew them.

Brain Exports Worry Britain

FOR YEARS CANADA HAS been worried about the export of brains. The large number of trained young people who have left for more lucrative opportunities in the United States, and elsewhere, has been a matter of public concern.

Now the shoe is on the other foot. Canada has been receiving so many scientists from the United Kingdom that Britain is sending across a governmental team urging the emigrants to come home.

Presumably a large percentage of the trained minds of Britain have come to this continent because they find the returns for their abilities, or the working conditions and way of life, more attractive than in their homeland.

Ladysmith Does It Better

IN THE EXTREMELY CLOSE election contest for chairman of the village commission, Ladysmith voters last week returned Mr. Len Ryan with a majority of five. His opponent is content with the result, asks no recount, and says he will run again next year and win.

But interesting as the closeness of the vote was, it is not the most significant feature of Ladysmith's election. In that community three-quarters of the people entitled to exercise the franchise took the trouble to go to the polls.

Greater Victoria, please note.

FROM WASHINGTON

By MAX FREEDMAN

With a Deficit of $4 Billions

IN THE controversy on the outflow of gold from the United States and the balance of payments problem, a professor from Yale, Mr. Robert Triffin, has become a dominating figure. His views have reached beyond the academic community to stir bitter argument among government officials and the International Monetary Fund; they have also, not surprisingly, won considerable support in Congress. His latest statement before the joint economic committee of Congress has at once been recognized as a major document that will influence the course of the future debate.

Freedman

Professor Triffin last appeared before this Congressional committee on October 28, 1959, when he discussed what he then called the "alarming deterioration" in the international position of the United States dollar. He expressed the fear, however, that only a real crisis would shake the Government and country into action.

Mr. Triffin distinguished two problems, the first of which was already being amply discussed, but the second largely being ignored in current economic and political discussions of the balance of payments crisis.

The first, and best known, problem was to restore full competitiveness in the external trading position of the United States.

Current Surplus

The improvement so far this year has been very encouraging. In the first nine months of 1960 the United States ran a surplus on current account at an annual rate of about $2 billions, in contrast to a current account deficit of nearly $900 million in 1959.

But these figures do not indicate the final solution of the problem. Exports have benefited from booming conditions in Japan and Western Europe, and have been abnormally swollen by a temporary spurt in cotton and airplanes delivered abroad.

Moreover, a $2 billion surplus in current account is still considerably short of what would be needed to finance the $4 billion to $6 billion annual rate of economic aid and capital exports, public and private, which took place in the last ten years and will remain necessary for years to come.

Thus the $2 billion surplus will be more than absorbed this year by the export of capital, and will still leave the United States with a general deficit of about $4 billions in its international payments. Professor Triffin estimated that "another year or two" will probably prove necessary to close that gap but he saw "no reason for panic" in this fact.

He explained that the amounts involved are extremely small in relation both to the gross national product (less than one per cent) and to the total level of foreign transactions.

The huge gold reserves, moreover, should give the United States ample time to deal with such a problem in a rational manner, avoiding costly and unnecessary disturbances to the American economy and "to the economy of other friendly nations."

Readjustments

Finally, the readjustments in the balance of payments should be eased considerably over the next year or two by the delayed adaptation of European and particularly German—price, wage and expenditure levels to the large increases in production which have temporarily and abnormally boosted these countries, competitive positions in world markets.

Professor Triffin then emphasized that the dollar is threatened today not only by the current balance of payments deficits but also—and far more immediately—by the huge short-term claims accumulated by foreigners and which they are legally entitled to convert into gold at the United States treasury, either directly or indirectly.

These amounted to about $17 billions in October, 1959. They have climbed since then by another $2.5 billions to well over $19 billions, while the gold stock declined by nearly $2 billions over the same period.

The excess of United States gold reserves over and above its short term indebtedness abroad reached a peak of more than $18 billions in 1949. It had already dropped to less than $3 billions by the middle of last year.

It turned negative last August, and it is highly probable that by now the dollar balances held in the United States by foreigners exceeds the total gold stock by at least one billion dollars.

Professor Triffin said that even if the United States were at once to regain full balance in its foreign transactions, the dollar would remain threatened by the ever-present possibility of large-scale conversions of those dollar balances into gold at the treasury. That is to say, the United States might well be in equilibrium in its total balance of payments, and yet be faced by massive demands for conversion into gold of short-term debts inherited from the former deficits.

Liquidation

Such massive liquidation by foreigners of their present dollar holdings would certainly become less likely as the United States gave evidence of its ability to put a stop to the persistent deficits of the last decade.

It would still exist, however, and the liquidation might be started at any time by speculative rumors or by interest rate differentials between New York and other financial centres, primarily in Western Europe.

As long as such a threat is allowed to persist, the United States may find itself unable to manage its own credit and interest-rate policies in the best interests of its own economy without running the risk of large gold outflows from this country, and ultimately, of a totally unnecessary devaluation of the dollar, with disastrous results to the world.

Another crisis would inevitably develop in time from the very success of the efforts to reduce the American balance of payments position. The elimination of the U.S. deficits would indeed dry up at the source two-thirds of the annual supply of monetary reserves on which the rest of the world has come to depend for the maintenance of international currency convertibility in an expanding world economy.

In the Opinion of Our Correspondents

Rebuilding Costs

Now that the time has arrived to start piecing St. John's back together it has become evident that the cost of church properties is very high. What effect a $115,000 organ will have on the souls of St. John's members is a moot point. And $26,000 worth of windows seems a mite high for light or inspiration.

Isn't it about time we began to get inspired in the manner that our times warrant. Couldn't a $2,000 electric organ be made to do the trick? That would leave $113,000 to be used for something as worthwhile as the Children's of India fund for the U.S.C. Surely starving, poorly clothed children, whether next door or a thousand doors away, are deserving of Christian consideration.

Let's do some serious re-evaluating.

ANGELICAN.

Appeals and Accounting

Occasionally, or even regularly, in your paper there are requests for donations.

The question I want to ask is this: What protection is afforded the public that moneys, etc., donated are used for the purposes mentioned?

Some years ago I received literature telling of great need, and I heard the man who proclaimed the great need speak at a conference and later at a church. When I, in my simplicity, asked to see an audited report of how the money donated was used he snubbed me and later at the church belabored me and denounced my impudence. I then wrote to a Toronto paper asking for a report on the man and on how the money was being used.

Its investigation showed that the money was not being used properly, and the paper refused to take his advertisement.

I have lived in China and Africa and so have been at both ends.

I would like to suggest that an audit should show not only how much was received but, quite as important, how it was spent and that includes not only advertisements, office, salaries, etc., but what became of the amount forwarded to the places and peoples for which the appeal was made?

Dreadful Devices

By MAE-GEN, W. H. MACKLIN, CBE

IT is an astounding, and rather terrifying thing that, even in the face of obviously grave misgivings on the part of the prime minister, the minister for external affairs, and large sections of the public, our defence department seems to have concluded that, if peace and disarmament negotiations fail, then the mass destruction of human life, with no regard to age or sex and the pollution of the whole earth with deadly fall-out, will be the only alternative, and a quite acceptable method of making war.

This seems like nothing less than a reversion to the total savagery of the bronze age, or to the methods of Genghis Khan and his Mongols, who piled the skulls of their enemies in pyramids.

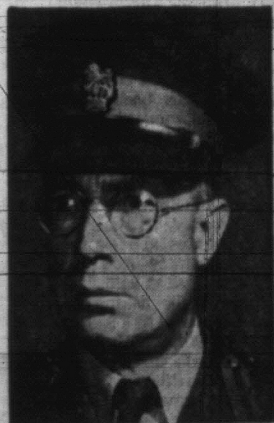

I believe this concept of war to be not only immoral, but also totally bankrupt. It is certain that we can never beat imperialistic Russian communism with hydrogen bombs. Nobody can win anything by using these dreadful devices, and if we try it we shall end up with Nineveh and Tyre.

If anything is sure in politics it is that the government will soon have to make a soul-searing decision about this business. There are really only two courses available.

They can go along with the defence department and become paid-up members of the nuclear club, (at enormous cost in money) by finally introducing the Bomarc, the Starfighter, and the clumsy Honest John army rocket into our armoury.

This assuredly will adversely affect our influence in great areas of Asia, Africa, and Latin America by exposing us to the barbed taunts of the Kremlin that we have become a mere shadow or creature of the United States, with no independence of policy or strategy at all.

Indeed, whatever Moscow makes of it, our adoption of nuclear bombs under American, or "joint" control, will in fact find us more than ever on the Pentagon bandwagon.

The only option I see to that will involve something like a repetition of the action taken in the case of the Arrow aircraft. That is, those devices that depend on nuclear weapons to be effective must be renounced and abandoned, with the admission that their adoption was an error, and that the money spent on them has been lost.

Such a decision, with all its effects on our aircraft industry, to mention but one aspect, will be most difficult and painful.

I said, when the adoption of the Bomarc was first announced, that the government had fopped from the Arrow frying pan into the missile fire. The time is approaching when the prediction will be proven to have been accurate.

This Government inherited an unsound defence policy from its predecessor. At the last session the opposition renounced that policy. The Government should now renounce it too, for nothing is to be gained by plodding stubbornly along the path of error.

There are enough nuclear bombs already to blow up the world, and any this country could add to the stock would be superfluous. We do not need them for defence, and they will add nothing to our safety.

The decision as to whether we add nuclear weapons to our inventory or whether we refuse, will be one of the most important ever taken by a Canadian Government. It is to be hoped that those who oppose so dangerous and drastic a move will have the deciding votes.

Neutrality

The New York Times

THE deep desire of many of the less developed nations, especially in Asia and Africa, to remain outside of the power struggle between the United States and the Soviet Union is not fully appreciated in this country.

Fortunately for us, the neutralist idea professed by states ranging all the way from India and Yugoslavia to Ghana and Mali cannot possibly be understood by Soviet Russia with its monolithic, Communist-imperialist approach that demands absolute subservience to whatever decisions on foreign policy are made at the centre.

Americans may not like the results of neutralism when we see it in action—as in President Nkrumah's speech—but at least the structure of our Government and our society does not prevent us, as it prevents the Russians, from understanding it. And it ought not to prevent us from realizing that within certain limits the developing neutralism of a large and increasingly important part of the world may not be harmful, may in fact be directly beneficial, to the long-range American goals of peace, independence and freedom for every nation.

There are deep issues that divide the whole free world, including the peoples of Asia and Africa, from the foreign policies of the Soviet Union.

These issues are easily recognized, and they involve such matters as a respect for sovereignty, the encouragement of genuine self-government, freedom of choice, orderly relationships with neighboring states, a rejection of force, of aggression, of threats and of subversion in international affairs.

Neutrality does not imply neutrality in such issues.

It's Murder, Mother

THE other evening one of today's brighter young girl vocalists gave TV audiences her interpretation of a song whipped out in the original production during the 'thirties by Ethel Merman.

By my reckoning it was a swell number in the original. And Ethel could do to it what Lou Gehrig did to a baseball. When she teed off, the song went sailing. We liked it like that in those days.

Some of us also liked the bright young vocalist who featured the selection the other evening. On songs of her own she does a sort of piquant job.

If you weren't familiar with the original, there wasn't much wrong with her treatment of the oldie the other night. If you were familiar with the original, you admitted her ability, but were disappointed because she just wasn't singing the song you knew.

Perhaps a person shouldn't feel unhappy about that development. Popular artists have personalized songs since 'way back. Bing Crosby, when he was still trying, used to introduce a special "Der Bingle" lilt to a number—his own particular beat, or off-beat. That was his trademark, as much as a "boo-boo-boo-boo." We were happy with it.

I'm not sure that Rex Harrison can sing, but he did a remarkably good job of talking selections, set to music, in "My Fair Lady."

The melodic vocal achievements of Jimmy "Schnozzola" Durante, perhaps remain an appreciation restricted solely to The Nose. But they're acceptable in the same way that Boy Scout concerts are enjoyable—so bad they're good.

You can name any of a hundred stars who took a song and made it his or her own—with or without music. Usually, however, they gave a form of recognition to the composer, though it was sometimes grudging. Most of them sang the notes.

In an earlier generation in England, Flor-

rie Ford took over "Down at the Old Bull and Bush." Albert Chevalier made "My Old Dutch" a personal appendage.

More latterly "Schnozzola," with no voice to speak of, did the same with an almost tuneless "Inky-Dinky-Do."

Then there was Bing, who did things to a song which made both it and him something special.

I guess the modern development of young people who stand before microphones and television cameras, appearing more impressed by the impression they are trying to make visually than vocally, was inevitable. Once in a while you listen to them and recognize a song. Very often they sing something that isn't a song at all—and since there's some doubt about their ability to sing anyhow, it doesn't matter much.

After all, Ol' Satchmo can take two buckets of gravel, pour them down a corrugated-iron-lined throat and send the Saints a-marchin' in just the way you want it. So maybe the kids have a right to try to do the same.

Nobody's kicking about them trying. But there ought to be some regulation which keeps their practice sessions off the picture tube and the recording machine.

They ought to have it made before they try to sell it.

Nor is there a great deal of music in finger-snapping youngsters wiggling before the cameras like grade school kids who can't wait for recess.

So they say youth must be served. Okay. But when it comes to what passes for popular music among some of the youngsters today, they aren't serving me.

That you take, or leave alone—depending on taste. Me, I'll leave it alone.

But when they pick up old melodies as dear to my heart as the old oaken bucket, then in all conscience, I have to lodge my protest.

Give me barbershop. Give me corn. Give me even Guy Lombardo and his vocalists—but let's keep the kids away from the fine old songs we loved long ago. They're too young for it. The brew is too potent for them.

Colonial Quip Irks Mr. Green

LONDON (CP)—Says the Earl of Home, Britain's foreign secretary: "I am glad to say on that I agree with Mr. Green."

Says External Affairs Minister Green of Canada: "Then I must be wrong."

The exchange is quoted by The Evening Standard—without giving the particular context—in a story relating how Lord Home "upset" Green with what was intended as a "jolly remark" about Canada's former colonial status.

According to reports of the meeting, Green dropped the diplomatic niceties and bluntly told the NATO session that NATO must improve its "image" in the eyes of the uncommitted countries.

He told his fellow foreign ministers that when NATO members voted in the UN in support of Belgian and Portuguese colonialism, they could damage the alliance's standing in the eyes of the neutralist Afro-Asian countries.

Atlas On Target

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI)—An Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile streaked across the Pacific Ocean last week and blasted its target at Eniwetok Lagoon, 4,384 miles away 27 minutes later, the Air Force reported.

Car Price Reports 'Wrong'

OTTAWA (CP)—Dire British and other European vehicles are assessed duty and tax.

The change reduced a discount rate to 20 per cent from 30 after complaints by the car trade and unions that the old rate was letting cars slip in 1960 cheaply.

Mr. Nowlan said Renault had decided against a retail price increase, Chrysler said the same about its French-made Simca, as did Ford of its British car line.

Volkswagen prices were up $50 to $80, British Motor Corporation was increasing its prices $20 and up depending on model.

TODAY'S TRAFFIC TROUBLE TIP

'Fireballs' Are Bad Drivers

Steer clear of the guy with his eye on the boss's job—he's headed for a crackup.

Ambitious, a gambler, non-conformist, tending to rely on others and a whizz at the racquet club, this fireball is probably a lousy driver.

So says an American psychologist, Dr. Donald Schuster, of University of Southern California, where he has just tested 2,000 drivers.

The physically-active type with the burning drive—maybe a little ruthless—is accident-prone, Dr. Schuster says.

On the other hand, the scholar says, the best driver is typically: Married, between 25 and 55 and an ex-serviceman; an unaggressive personality who has learned to take orders.

To Dr. Schuster's findings we can add these sterling qualities: The best driver is mentally alert, patient, considerate of others, mindful of the horsepower under his right foot, knows his traffic manual, when to compromise, act quickly or stay home.

Inevitably, Dr. Schuster dragged sex into the picture by saying his study showed women were better behind the wheel than men.

But maybe it is only because they drive less, he conceded.

If you have any comments on traffic-beefs, suggestions or questions—ask Times "Traffic-Trouble-Tips."

CANADIAN SERVICEMEN 'GIVE' A HOSPITAL

OTTAWA (CP)—The first shovelful of sand has been turned for a maternity hospital and baby clinic being given by Canadian soldiers in Egypt to Palestinian refugees.

The hospital and the clinic, one of the largest Christmas welfare plans ever undertaken by Canadian servicemen overseas, will cost an estimated $6,000 and will be entirely financed by the 800 soldiers of the Canadian contingent in the United Nations Emergency Force.

Part of the money is being raised by contributions from all ranks. The remainder will be raised by a one-cent increase in the price of a package of cigarettes and of a pint of beer. With the increase, cigarettes cost about 11 cents a pack and beer about 13 cents a bottle.

FISHERMAN RESCUED AFTER GRIM STRUGGLE

Alex Jackson, 53, of Kemp Lake Road, Sooke, was rescued Monday afternoon by a fisheries department vessel in Iron Mine Bay, near Sooke Harbor, 24 hours after the engine of his 20-foot troller conked out.

He was tired and hungry but in good condition. RCMP and the RCAF Air-Sea Rescue had been looking for him.

Water splashed on the motor caused a short-circuit about 2 p.m. Sunday. The fisherman cleaned the plug and points "then killed the battery grinding away on the starter."

He paddled the troller a half mile to a fish pot piling and spent a sleepless night keeping his mooring line slack.

'OLD HAT' FOR TONY

Getting capped as skip of best rink in Victoria Curling Club is old story for icemaker Tony Gutoski. Shown receiving winning treatment from mates after clinching berth in Vancouver Island play-downs, Gutoski will represent city club for sixth time. Rink, which consists of (from left) third Gary Leibel, second Gord Robertson, Gutoski and lead Corky Davis, defeated Steve Hayhurst foursome Monday night and now meets best from four other clubs for right to represent Island in B.C. final.

CONSISTENT TONY CLINCHES ... ANOTHER ZONE BERTH

Buttermilk and Curling Titles

By ERNIE FEDORUK
Tony Gutoski's amazing consistency is setting a curling record that is going to be hard to equal.
The Victoria Curling Club's newly-declared representative in the forthcoming Vancouver Island play-downs is the amiable icemaker, who neutralizes nervousness with liberal draughts of buttermilk.

SPORTS DIARY

By JIMMY CANNON

NEW YORK—There is no organized boycott among the franchise holders to keep Leo Durocher out of baseball. The teamless manager is a victim of his insolently abrasive personality and his reputation for being intolerant with failures. But the installation of Bill Rigney as the steward of new Los Angeles Angels in the American League provoked Durocher to surmise he is blacklisted in the sport. Such a plot doesn't exist.

Embarrassment incited by prolonged unemployment has caused Durocher to declaim on his ignored availability.

The decision to appoint Rigney was made by Fred Haney, general manager of the firm, immediately after Los Angeles was established as an American League city. In a discussion with a baseball man, Haney rejected Durocher as a manager who hadn't the temperament to endure the incessant losses of a club populated by the throwaways of the other clubs in the union. Impatience with mediocrity disqualified him.

It is Durocher's complaint that Haney called to inform him he wouldn't get the job. This was interpreted by Durocher as an indication that Haney's original intention was to choose him. But the general manager also dropped in on Stengel for the same purpose. It was a matter of courtesy. Both had been publicized as possible selections.

It bugs Durocher because Horace Stoneham, president of the Giants, shuffled him off after he volunteered by telephone to handle the San Francisco team when Rigney was bounced. I doubt if Durocher realizes Stoneham's dislike for him. Animosity crippled their relationship before Durocher was pushed out as manager when the Giants functioned in New York.

There was an argument which diluted the gladness of the Giants beating the Indians in the World Series of '54.

At the party celebrating the achievement, Durocher told his boss that the club had to be renovated by trades or it would fall apart. The advice offended Stoneham. It didn't help Durocher when time proved him right.

On an exhibition tour of Japan, Stoneham thought his manager ducked him to go a loner's route. The cruel satire of a monologue acted by Danny Kaye at a banquet for Durocher was measured as an insult by Stoneham, who was lampooned. A visit to San Francisco by Durocher when Rigney's job was in jeopardy also infuriated Stoneham.

The trip was a social one. It was made, according to Durocher, in absolute innocence. But Stoneham resented Durocher's presence. The owner considered this a crude application for Rigney's place. So eager was Durocher to return to the Giants that, after Rigney had been dumped, he telephoned Stoneham from Los Angeles.

"If I can help you, boss," said Durocher, "call me. Salary means nothing."

Leo Turned Down Job With Indians

Still Stoneham gave him a pass for Tom Sheehan. After that, it was Alvin Dark. Gossip filtered through the national baseball community that Durocher was barred for being mixed up with a card hustler. The slander piqued Stoneham's curiosity, although he never intended to put Durocher to work.

He requested clarification from Ford Frick, commissioner of baseball, who insisted the story was mendacious chatter without foundation in fact. The commissioner stood on his original comment when I solicited his appraisal of Durocher's claims.

Durocher backed down on Frank Lane. The general manager of Cleveland believed he had a handshake proposition for Durocher to manage the Indians. But Durocher cancelled. No one in baseball, Lane told me, tried to run him off Durocher.

The rap against Durocher by proprietors of second division teams, in some ways, is a tribute to his skills. It is the common belief that Durocher is a great manager if he is supervising a club that's moving toward a pennant. But he demands too much from mediocre players with his rages. He is a leader, not an educator of the sport. The second division is hostile country.

Some owners were scared away from Durocher when he announced he wouldn't come back to baseball unless he could get a piece of a club through a stock deal. Others harbor old grudges against him. There are those who consider his routine of life too careless for a respectable sport. But these are individual objections, not the pooled prejudices of an industry.

I remember asking Birdie Tebbetts, vice-president of the Braves, if he would go after Durocher when Haney left Milwaukee.

"Milwaukee's a small town," Tebbetts replied. "It's not big enough for Leo."

When Durocher was the most famous man in baseball, he cherished enemies as if they were trophies of success. But he belongs in baseball because he brings to it a rare excitement. There is no conspiracy to exclude him. He did this to himself.

Agar Talks Like Kitten; Cats Check Like Tigers

Defencemen Spark Cougars To Triumph Over Warriors

WINNIPEG—Like Teddy Roosevelt, George Agar believes a lot can be accomplished if a guy will "talk softly, but carry a big stick."

Coach Agar made it plain to his Victoria Cougars early Monday that he had seen enough of the soft, loose defensive efforts of the Cats in their previous two Western Hockey League outings. George softly laid down the law about tactics that allowed rival clubs to score 13 goals against the Cougars in two games.

Agar's quiet monologue paid dividends Monday night.

WARRIORS IN SLUMP

The Cougars turned in one of their toughest defensive displays on their current road trip and Agar's whip-cracking may be one reason why Winnipeg Warriors are still all alone in last place.

The most important reason, of course, is Cougars' 4-1 decision over the slumping Warriors. Bill Robinson's Winnipeg team, suffering through a 10-game winless streak, dropped four points behind Victoria with Monday's loss.

And if the defensive corps of the Cougars had been smarting over their results in two previous games, they began making up for it.

SOLID PROTECTION

In addition to checking like tigers and giving goalie Marcel Pelletier some solid protection, Agar's blueliners opened the door offensively.

Goals by defencemen Wayne North and Jim Hay started Cougars on the winning path after Victoria spotted Warriors the opening counter.

Bert Fizzell and Bill Saunders also scored for Cougars, while Gord Labossiere picked up his first point since being traded by Edmonton Flyers—counted Winnipeg's goal.

Outshot by the desperate Warriors, Cougars still gave Pelletier all the help he needed. Pelletier made 29 stops compared to 19 by Winnipeg's Harry Lumley; but the Victoria goalie rarely had to worry about pesky rebounds as the Cats bounced Winnipeg forwards away from the goal.

POSTS HELPED

Pelletier also came up with several big saves on his own and was blessed with some luck when at least four Warrior shots bounced off goalposts.

Labossiere's goal came after he grabbed the puck at centre ice, beat one defender, then walked around defenceman Hugh Currie and slammed the puck into the net from 15 feet out.

North's goal came on a rebound shot after Warriors' goalie Harry Lumley blocked a shot by Doug Macauley at point-blank range.

Lumley never saw the puck on Hay's goal. Hay fired it from the boards 35 feet out with Macauley blocking Lumley's vision in front of the net.

Fizzell's 50-foot blue line shot bounced into the net off Lumley's glove.

DAVIS MISSES TWICE

In the third period, veteran Lorne Davis hit the Victoria goalpost with two minutes gone. A bouncing shot by Al Nicholson hit the post 10 seconds later and Davis did it again still later.

The Warriors pressed to the end but ran up against a tough Victoria defence. With only 23 seconds left, Saunders connected with the only goal of the third.

North failed to finish the game when an old ankle injury started to bother him again. Agar also shuffled his front lines, benching rookie Don Wilson and sending veteran Elliott Chorley to right wing on a line with Doug Anderson and Fizzell.

Cougars face Warriors again Wednesday night and then wrap up their extended road trip in Vancouver Friday. The Cats return home for a Boxing Day afternoon meeting with Portland Buckaroos.

Buzz-Saw Benny Fighting Champ Giant Sirola Is Player Aussie Aces Fear Most

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEW YORK (NEA) — Bernardo Pareto is one of the more amazing fighters the ring has produced and through the years it has had some beauty.

Benny "Kid" Pareto may be the one to get boxing in motion again. That admittedly is a herculean task in a business stalled by faulty commissions, dirty sludge mob rule, television drain on attendance and a heavyweight champion who practically remains in hiding.

But Pareto, a 23-year-old Cuban buzz-saw, is what was meant in the old days when they called a guy a fighting champion.

Benny the Kid quickly agreed to once more defend the world welterweight chamionship against Emile Griffith, who upset previously unbeaten Luis Rodriguez at Madison Square Garden last Saturday night.

And he had hardly repulsed Frederick Thompson after 15 savagely-fought rounds in the same battle, the previous weekend when he consented to giving the Panama-reared and Argentina-developed stylist another crack at the crown.

Pareto catches as well as the legendary Battling Nelson and pitches almost as rapidly as Jackie Kid Berg. Pareto, the indestructible man, is as grimly unyielding as a tombstone. Thompson, who knocked out 45 per cent of his opponents in 117 outings, apparently couldn't dent him with a sledgehammer or cut him with an axe.

For all his callosity, Pareto has the resilience of a rubber ball. The harder the other bloke hits him the higher he bounces back, spraying punches like a firehose.

Pareto could be called a club fighter—boxing parlance for an unskilled, determined gladiator who walks in taking two or three punches to get in one. He wades in with the high speed of a diamond drill.

In the language of the race track, he is a sprinter who can go a route. That makes him a stand-up-and-cheer performer. Thompson dropped what seemed to be atomic bombs on Pareto in every heat, but he might just have been bombarding a tank with tennis balls. Punches that would have shaken up the average heavy-weight didn't as much as make Pareto blink, left him almost totally unmarked.

They only impelled Pareto to tear in with flurries which at times had the 33-year-old Thompson as bewildered and frustrated as a barber at Fidel Castro's headquarters. The Cubanola Conundrum had Thompson bleeding like a soap opera writer's heart from a cut lip suffered in the third round.

Pareto is certain to be most exciting and entertaining while he lasts.

"Benny, you're a bum," grinned matchmaker Teddy Brenner affectionately in the dressing room after Pareto's first defence of the title he took from Don Jordan in May.

Benny Kid Pareto grinned back, the first emotion he had shown all evening.

BENNY PARETO
... good catcher

TIME OUT! JEFF FRANK

"I'm sorry, Fensholt, but I doubt the fact your wife's bowling average is 190 to your 155 would stand up in court as intolerable cruelty!"

REMMIN MEETS LINDY

Army Opens Door For Introduction

The Army opened the door to an eagerly-awaited introduction when they shifted Sgt. Ed Remmin from the Prairies to the Victoria-based Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry division.

The 'stocky sergeant' had been looking forward to meeting highly-rated Vancouver boxer Lindy Lindmeyer, former amateur champion of both the U.S. and Canada.

One of the new members of the NCO staff at Work Point Barracks, Remmin gets his chance Wednesday night when the heavyweights headline the Army Boxing Club's first card of the season.

The 10-bout program at the Work Point gym, located at Lamson and Munro Streets in Esquimalt, gets under way at 8 p.m.

Remmin, 190, is a veteran ring campaigner who was a former Western and Prairie Command heavyweight champion.

Fighters from Victoria, the Army boxing club, Vancouver and Chemainus will be featured on the card.

Following are the scheduled bouts:

Dan Bye, Vancouver, vs. Pte. Fred Francis, PCLLI (welterweights).
Mike Nicko, Chemainus, vs. Pte. George Reier, PCLLI (welterweights).
George Sade, Vancouver, vs. Pte. Bob McNeill, PCLLI (light middleweights).
Dave Coulson, Vancouver, vs. Pte. John Papp, PCLLI (bantamweights).
Fritz Schlegel, Vancouver, vs. Al Curtis, Victoria (middleweights).
Lindy Lindmeyer, Vancouver, vs. Sgt. Ed Remmin, PCLLI (heavyweights).
Bob Giesler, Vancouver, vs. Pte. Larry Cardinal, PCLLI (light middleweights).
Bruce Bailey, Chemainus, vs. Tony Lallo, Victoria (lightweights).

You Should Visit Cold Lake, Estes

OTTAWA (CP)—Officers at air force headquarters have been reading with open mouths an American magazine article describing the RCAF base at Cold Lake, Alta., as capable of unleashing thousands of missiles at the heart of Russia.

But their astonishment turned almost to incredulity when a portion of the article saying that Cold Lake is the most potent weapon the West has to answer any Soviet attack appeared in the United States Congressional record.

It was inserted in the Congressional record by Senator Estes Kefauver, Democrat of Tennessee, who was apparently only trying to tell his colleagues what a grand and powerful ally the U.S. had in Canada.

Chances are that External Affairs Minister Green will not be amused if his eye lights on the article in the National Police Gazette or the summary of it in the Congressional record.

NO VISIT BY AUTHOR

It is known that the RCAF had nothing to do with the article and that the author never visited Cold Lake, 150 miles northeast of Edmonton.

The article carried these headings: "Why Khrushchev Sees Red—The Missile Base That Can Kill Russia!"

"Push-button warfare is a reality at Cold Lake. In seconds thousands of missiles and rockets can penetrate the heart of Soviet defences."

Actually, Cold Lake includes a weapons range for the testing of air-to-air and ground-to-air missiles and rockets with ranges of three or four miles at a maximum. It also trains CF-100 jet crews and has a radar station.

The November issue of the Police Gazette said Cold Lake is regarded by some military authorities as one of the biggest single reasons why the cold war has not yet turned hot.

It said the base will eventually accommodate 250,000 men, 20,000 planes on 20 airfields and 100,000 missiles and rockets.

In fact, there are some 2,000 RCAF personnel at Cold Lake. There is not a single operational squadron at the base.

20,000 VISIT BARKERVILLE AS OLD TOWN 'CATCHES ON'

An estimated 20,000 people visited one of B.C.'s fastest growing attractions in 1960: the recreated gold rush town of Barkerville in the Cariboo.

The Barkerville restoration committee met in Victoria Friday to discuss the success and plan for future expansion.

Says chairman L. J. Wallace (deputy provincial secretary): "People seem to have caught on to the place and its historic greatness."

Started as a B.C. centennial project in 1958, the new-old town drew only some 500 visitors its first year. In 1959 a total of 10,000 signed visitors' registers there; now it's more than 20,000. By 1962, centenary of Billy Barker's gold strike, said Mr. Wallace, 70,000 are expected.

Wish I'd said that: Some women don't care how much they have to pay for something, as long as it's delivered free.

Modern paintings are so weird that the only way to tell if they're finished is to touch the canvas and see if it's dry.

That's earl, brother.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes. The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia, and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe. Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Jimmy McGrath, aged 10, of Peoria, Ill., for his question:

How Is Paper Made?

Chances are, this page of paper was once part of a tall tree growing in some northern forest. The tree may have been a lofty hemlock, a fresh scented pine or a feathery fir. Or it may have been a thick spruce, a Christmas tree 180 feet tall. One day a woodsman marked it for execution and the great tree was soon on the way to the paper mill. A paper mill is always near a stream, for plenty of running water is needed to turn wood into paper. Here the great trees are trimmed and cut into logs. A tunnel-shaped machine strips off the bark and the logs are sent to a chipper machine which flakes them into chips of an inch or less. The woody chips are hoisted up a conveyor belt to the mouth of a huge tank called a digester. The chips are dumped inside where they are mixed with liquid chemicals and cooked with steam.

TOUGH FIBRES

The paper is made from the tough fibres of cellulose in the wood. The digesting process separates this useful cellulose from resins, cements called lignins and other waste materials in the wood. The mixture becomes a soupy pulp, which goes on its way to be washed and washed and washed. Only the cellulose fibres remain in the soupy pulp.

As a rule, the pulp now goes through a tank of bleaching chemicals and on to a machine called a beater. This is

Jimmy taught Copa boss Julie Podeli a new word: "de-breviate" as in "I won't de-breviate from my policy."

A Truly Inspired Messiah

By NORMAN CRIBBENS
The glorious music of Handel's Messiah took on an almost ethereal quality Monday night when it was performed in Metropolitan United Church by Victoria Choral Society.

It would be hard to imagine a more inspired performance of the great church classic.

Quebec Joins Scheme
OTTAWA (UPI)—The Federal-Provincial hospital insurance program became a nation-wide affair Tuesday with the signing of Québec as the 10th and final province.

than that which was elicited from soloists and chorus by their conductor Stanley Hoban. From overture to finale the performance held a packed audience enthralled and a few enthusiasts talked of returning to the repeat performance tonight at 8.

The music composed almost 119 years ago had a force and vitality that none could escape. It emerged from the past in a dazzling array of sound, marshalled and controlled by Mr. Hoban, and highlighted by the fine work of the soloists.

Peggy Walton Packard lent warmth and feeling to the solo parts, particularly in the lovely air, "I know that my Redeemer liveth," and "There were shepherds abiding in the fields."

The tenor solos, opening with "Comfort ye my people," were sung with reverence and sincerity by Michael Rogers. Eleanor Duff was charmingly eloquent in the contralto passages, and John Dunbar, substituting for Stanley Martin, who is indisposed, brought tone and quality to the bass solos.

SENSITIVE
The intricate organ accompaniment was cleverly handled by Richard Proudman, always in sensitive accord with the singers and well able to sustain the solo instrumental parts.

Light and shadow were wisely alternated in The Messiah. The solemn air, "Comfort ye my people," gives way to the lively "Every valley shall be exalted" and bursts into triumphant song with the chorus "For unto us a Child is born."

There is no other word for it—the performance was tremendous!

Three Firemen Killed

"a likely lad."

PRINCE CHARLES BAGS BIRD ON FIRST SHOT

LONDON (AP)—Twelve-year-old Prince Charles today had an important milestone behind him—his first pheasant shoot.

With his father, Prince Philip, looking on, he accented himself as a sportsman should.

He bagged the first bird he shot at. "A likely lad, that one," said a gamekeeper as they watched the heir to the throne hit a cock pheasant at a difficult angle.

The shoot took place at County Kent home of Lord Bradburne.

Also in the shooting party was Lord Bradburne's 13-year-old son, the Hon. Norton Knatchbull.

Knatchbull shot well, too.

Charles was armed with a double-barrelled shotgun. Accompanying him was his gun dog, Flash.

Before stopping for a cold lunch, Charles and his father bagged 20 birds between them.

15 SLEEPLESS YEARS FOR A-BOMB GUIDE

DALLAS (UPI)—The man who led the way for the first atomic bomb attack said Monday guilt feelings haunted him and kept him from sleep for 15 years.

Former air force Maj. Claude Eatherly, whose guilt feelings about the raids on Hiroshima and Nagasaki drove him to a post war life of crime, was arrested when he ran his car through a stop sign.

Eatherly flew a reconnaissance plane that found a hole in the clouds over Hiroshima Aug. 6, 1945. He showed the way for the bomber Enola Gay, which dropped the first atomic bomb.

He thought of Pearl Harbor as he flew toward Hiroshima, he said.

"After I saw the destruction, I didn't want to go over Nagasaki," but I went," Eatherly said.

Later severe guilt feelings "came over me just like that," he said with a snap of his fingers.

"I haven't had any sleep in 15 years," he said, "though it's getting better the last six months."

"It (the guilt) bothers me, but I'm learning to live with it. All this publicity hurts. It's awful, there's no peace. They all recognize me."

Eatherly plans to write a book about his pacifist feelings.

... HERE AND THERE ...

With NORMAN CRIBBENS

"Christmas is often a sad season for lonely people. And E. W. D. (Tug) Wilson, who works for the Silver Threads service, has a special message for them.

"I intend to call on as many of you as I can in the New Year," he says. "I want to make other people as happy as I am in this work."

Mr. Wilson seeks out lonely old-timers for a smoke and a chat and provides minor comforts. Just recently he procured some Cheshire cheese for a blind veteran who wanted this "more than anything else."

He can be contacted at EV 3-1090.

Premier Bennett is as nimble as ever.

When asked in a radio interview if he regarded his dispute with Justice Minister David Fulton as a "tempest in a teapot," the premier replied:

"Oh no, not a tempest—just a little fly in the ointment. . . . I think you will find that, when the Columbia River is finally developed, B.C. and Ottawa will be in pretty close agreement."

"But we cannot understand why Ottawa is dragging its feet!"

Strange literature is written in wills and bequests, says Toby Featherstonhaugh, clerk to the Probate Court at Victoria Courthouse.

Two years ago a Victoria man directed in his will that his funeral must not be held on a Tuesday or Thursday. . . . It must not be raining and the funeral procession must not move faster than 10 miles an hour.

He further directed that any member of his family who did not show up at the funeral should be cut off without a penny and the money devoted to charity.

The voice of Robert Service, famed Yukon poet, was broadcast for the first time in Victoria Sunday. The late Mr. Service was heard reading his poem, "The Spell of the Yukon," over radio station CFAX. Next Sunday he will be heard in "The Cremation of Sam McGee." These historic recordings were made by veteran broadcaster Bill Ward in 1948.

Major Kirkpatrick Crockett tells me the first child to be baptized at the old "Iron Church" of St. John the Divine was Sophia Edith Rhodes on Sept. 16, 1860.

He found this entry in an old baptism book rescued from the safe at burned-out St. John's.

House Saved As Neighbor Spots Blaze

Smoke and flames from a burning chesterfield drove a woman and her housekeeper from their north Quadra home shortly before 3 p.m. Monday.

A neighbor, who saw fire in a living-room from where she worked in her kitchen, gave the alarm in time for firemen to keep damage to a minimum.

Mrs. Vilhelmine Jones, a woman in her 80s, and housekeeper, Mrs. Lillian Mathews, were in their kitchen having tea and were unaware at first that fire had started behind closed doors leading to the front of the house at 4030 Quadra.

By the time Mrs. Julia Coldwell, 4030 Quadra, reached their house after phoning Saanich fire department, the two women had spotted the fire and were trying to carry a trunk outside.

Firemen said the blaze apparently started in a chesterfield from a cigarette. Heat broke a window, scorched a wall and damaged a rug besides ruining the chesterfield. Smoke damage elsewhere was light.

The two women spent the night at Oak Lodge Private Hospital, adjoining their house.

New Citizens To Take Oaths

A naturalization ceremony for 22 new Canadians, sponsored by the Greater Victoria Citizenship Council, will be conducted in the courthouse Thursday at 10 a.m.

The new Canadians will be council guests at a coffee party following the ceremony.

METER TAKE UP DESPITE COMPETITION

Street meter revenues are rising despite three large off-street parking developments providing about 1,000 car spaces, city public works committee was told today.

"It points up the need for hurrying to provide another parking lot," said chairman Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow.

City engineer James Garnett said that the Hudson's Bay Company and T. Eaton Company parking garages and the city's new parking lot on the former public market site "are all being used to capacity."

"And yet our street parking meter revenue is higher than it has ever been."

Self-Defence Pleaded In Axe Case

A plea of self-defence was made in city police court today by Joseph Altorjai, charged with attempted murder in an alleged hatchet assault in a downtown cafe Sept. 22.

Robert James Cameron, who alleges the attack by Altorjai, identified a suit coat—badly cut or torn—as the one he wore when axe blows were aimed at him.

The Crown's evidence was completed at today's preliminary hearing, but Magistrate William Ostler adjourned the case to Thursday to allow police time to locate three witnesses for the accused, who made a statement to the court. Proceedings were conducted through an interpreter, translating English-Hungarian for the accused.

After the charge was laid Sept. 30, Altorjai was committed to a mental institution and was returned here last week by order-in-council affirming his fitness to be tried.

Given the opportunity to speak before commitment at completion of the Crown's case, Altorjai said he was walking on Broad Street in front of a taxi office when four men came out of the office, surrounded him and he tried to get away.

THREAT TO KILL

Two of the men chased when he ran, and the accused pointed to men in the courtroom. They fought, he said, and one said he would kill Altorjai, court was told.

The accused said he went to the Kings Hotel for help, and a night porter and two other men came out.

One of the men to whom he pointed in the courtroom threatened to kill him three times, the accused said.

Afterwards, as the accused took some kindling wood and an axe from his parked truck, two men accosted him in front of Melrose Cafe, he said.

When he was threatened again, he struck in self-defence and does not feel guilty, court was told.

Cameron said the attack on him took place inside the cafe when he tried to walk past the accused, who he said he had never seen before.

'SA' and 'SA' Spark SOS Call From Confused Householders

Confusion exists among some householders as to whether door-to-door Christmas collections are being made by the Salvation Army or the Seventh-Day Adventists.

Both are making collections. The confusing part appears to be the S and A in the names common to both groups.

This is so despite the fact Salvation Army canvassers are either in uniform or wear Army cap or insignia and carry plainly marked red plastic collection boxes. And Seventh-Day Adventist canvassers identify themselves and pass out cards at the time as additional identification.

But a Salvation Army spokesman said "dozens of calls" have been received from people who thought they had given to the Army when they had contributed to the Adventists.

The spokesman said these canvassers say "We are collecting for the SA." This could lead householders to think they were giving to the Salvation Army. "This is absolutely not true," said a spokesman for the other church. "We tell them we are Seventh-Day Adventists, and we give cards that say so."

Both church-collecting teams have carollers along with them, and the Salvation Army has a readily-identifiable band.

3 Per Cent Decrease In B.C. Retail Sales

Job-Seekers Rise 25% In November

The number of unemployed in B.C. continues to rise as bad weather, poor markets, high inventories and industrial disputes put a break on business.

The Unemployment Insurance Commission says in its monthly report the number of persons seeking work jumped 25 per cent from October to November. The November figure, it says, is 20 per cent higher than in the same month a year ago.

Most of the jobless are in construction with the lumber industry a close second. Snow on upper levels has forced the shutdown of some logging camps and poor markets have cut production of shingles, plywood and bleached pulp.

'An Honor' But Who Wanted It?

Surprise, opposition and pleasure here today greeted granting Monday of the word "Royal" in the name of the Canadian Legion.

(Prime Minister Diefenbaker announced Monday that Queen Elizabeth has given permission for the veterans' organization to be known as the Royal Canadian Legion.)

Col. R. B. Longridge, a former zone commander of the Legion and a past provincial vice-president termed it "a great honor. Very few organizations obtain this permission."

Not so enthusiastic was C. A. Gill, secretary of the Legion's Pro Patria branch.

"I don't think very much of the idea. We have the RCMP, the RCAF, the RCRC, and now, it seems, we will have the RCLs."

M. F. Francis, secretary of Esquimalt Dockyard branch, said he was not opposed to the use of Royal but said it was "incomprehensible" how officials "got these ideas."

"It was a bolt from the blue." No Legion official contacted had heard of the mooted change.

'NEWS TO US'

William Kane, secretary of the Britannia branch said "this is news to us," but he termed it "an honor."

President of the 2,400-member branch, George Corp, said the announcement "was quite surprising, to me, and puzzling."

He and other Legion officials explained that a new crest for the Legion had been endorsed by the Dominion Command, and is in production.

This new crest does not contain the word "Royal."

This could mean that the crest might be changed again.

APPEAL BY ARTIST

Common Home Urged For Needy Indians

A Victoria artist today appealed to Indian chiefs to set up special committees to look after old people on reservations.

Miss Betty Newton, well-known painter of native flowers, said there is evidence that aged natives suffer from neglect and want.

The younger Indians are not shouldering their responsibilities, she said.

"They should provide a common home for the aged or see that they are visited daily," Miss Newton said.

She cited as an example the case of 85-year-old Jimmy Fraser, Indian sage and weather prophet, who is living alone in a one-room cabin on the Craigflower reservation.

Jimmy, who is now half blind, can no longer cook for

NO MATTER HOW YOU LOOK AT IT ...

If you had your ups and downs in 1960, if things were topsy-turvy in the year just ending, you may well say "Egad!" as you contemplate 1961.

Even "Great Scott!" is an understatement.

For all 365 days of 1961, you'll never know whether your number is up or upside down.

Any way you look at it, including standing on your head, 1961 will be 1961, as Sid Barron's friends illustrate so graphically.

People in the year 1961 also had the same problem, but did not worry about it as much, this being before the era of nuclear fission, income tax, and other harassments.

And the last time a year had this playing-card appearance was 1881, when things were simpler and it didn't much matter what year it was.

But there are five Victoria residents who should welcome 1961. Dave McCreedy, William Rogers, K. C. Watson, Josef Drozdowski and G. R. Chrichton should be able to remember their telephone numbers on the Evergreen exchange—the last four digits in each case are one, nine, six, one.

New Grinder To Smooth Arena Bumps

Bumps in the new Memorial Arena concrete floor will lead to smoother sidewalks for the city.

City public works committee today authorized purchase of a concrete grinding machine at a cost of $800.

City engineer James Garnett said he made a search for a machine designed specifically for cutting down bumps in concrete because the new arena floor will require leveling after the hockey season is over.

"In finishing the new arena floor, the contractor did not adhere to our specified levels and accordingly there is a need for a considerable area to be leveled when the ice is taken off in the spring," Mr. Garnett reported.

He said the contractor had accepted responsibility for the leveling but the city made a search for a suitable machine to be certain of "a satisfactory technique for this somewhat unusual operation."

Chairman Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow suggested the purchase should be referred to the arena commission but Mr. Garnett said he wanted the machine for public works department.

"I've come to the conclusion we can't afford to be without this machine," he said. "Like all older cities, we have a tremendous number of sidewalks and people trip over them."

Normal methods of breaking up the concrete and repouring have been too expensive for any extensive leveling of settled sidewalks, he pointed out.

Personal Income Boosted

More people had more money but spent less for the first time in 10 years in British Columbia this year.

An estimated $51,000,000 decline in retail sales is the first drop since 1950.

A review of the up-and-down year in business was issued today by the provincial bureau of economics and statistics.

The review shows B.C.'s population up 2 per cent in 1960, retail sales down 3 per cent, earnings up 4 per cent, capital investment down 5 per cent.

Figures are based mostly on the first 10 or 11 months, with estimates for the year's end.

"BASICS" BOOSTED

Also among the "ups" are the forest industry, mining and exports, with total manufacturing value hitting a record $2,000,000,000.

Among the "downs" are fishing and the construction industry, with sharp drops in motor vehicle sales and life insurance. Capital spending by all levels of government also shows a decline, although a bigger winter works assistance program by Ottawa may pull the figures up.

57,000 JOBLESS

Behind it all looms the total of 57,000 British Columbians unemployed at Nov. 12, last available figure.

The report does not deal specifically with unemployment. It concedes: "The uncertain employment situation has, in part, contributed to the decline" in home markets.

It adds:

"As 1959 was itself marked by less than full employment there has been a cumulative effect resulting in a sizeable fraction of our labor force currently unable to contribute to productive work within the economy."

UP 10,000

The total labor force, it says, is up 10,000 to 584,000.

The total population is up two per cent from 1,570,000 to 1,618,000.

The total personal income has risen to $2,825,000,000 from last year's $2,715,000,000.

The total retail sales are estimated at $1,640,000,000, compared with the $1,691,729,000 of last year. It is the first decline in 10 years.

MORE GROCERIES

A breakdown shows that grocery sales rose $6,000,000 and department store sales were up $3,700,000 this year, but motor vehicle sales crashed $25,500,000 to $291,000,000, lumber and building material sales fell almost $12,000,000 to $38,000,000.

Sales of life insurance fell from $403,000,000 in 1959 to $384,000,000 this year, also the first decline since 1950.

Q. Where is the Danish Club of Victoria located? G.M.W.

A. It meets in various places, depending on the occasion. Information can be obtained from Kjeld Olsson at EV 2-6593.

Q. What was the part that made Fanny Brice famous? L.T.

A. In the 1930s and 1940s Miss Brice played the part of "Baby Snooks" on the radio, stage and in motion pictures. It was the part of a big-mouthed, though cute, brat. She had starred earlier in stage musicals, and died in 1951, aged 60.

Imported Hunting Knives
Perfect for Active Boys

By PENNY SAVER

If you have a Boy Scout or Cub, a budding woodsman or young sailor in your house, you should certainly take a look at hunting knives I've seen selling at $1.98. They're exceptionally good value for the blade is of fine German steel. Sturdy metal-topped handle has an attractive embossed deer design and sheath is of leather. These are a good idea to keep in mind when Christmas shopping.

Teen-age daughters and their mothers, too, will adore novelty animals that are imported from Norway. They're made of sealskin and there are walrus and seals from which to choose. Tusks are of real ivory.

Animals measuring three inches in length sell for $1.50 while larger ones measuring 5 1/2 inches are priced at $2.50.

Within anyone's budget are imported sets of two china ash trays and matching cigaret box and table lighter. White china is centred with colorful designs of pheasants against autumn toned thickets. You'll be amazed to hear that this distinctive gift can be bought for $2.95.

Still with the smoker in mind, I'm reminded of handy gadgets I saw today that are actually designed to pick up table crumbs but would be ideal for tidying up when ashes get spilled over your furniture or rug.

Cleaners have chrome tops that measure about five inches in diameter and make excellent ash trays. Centred in top is a plunger-type handle that works with a swivel action. A quick flip of the wrist and crumbs or ashes are drawn up into the section at base of cleaner. This section can be easily removed for cleaning.

Cleaners all have warm tangerine-toned bottom sections and low price tag of 98 cents makes them a good buy.

FASHION NOTES

With fur hats so popular this season, your eyebrows need more attention than ever. If you wear a white, tan or pale brown fur hat, remember to darken your brows with a slightly heavier hand or they'll be lost in the forward thrust of shaggy ends of fur from your hat.

It isn't feasible to make one dress look like six by changing beads and belt. What you achieve is to give the dress a tired look.

Brush coat collars and hats before and after every wearing. This routine helps to keep white powder lines from setting in the garments.

DEAR ABBY

The Proper Upbringing?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We are trying to raise our 15-year-old daughter right. She has been dating since she was 13. She is very mature for her age (physically) and is very popular with the boys.

We used to allow her to stay out until 11 p.m. on week nights and 1 a.m. on week ends. Her grades started to slip badly, so we changed her curfew to 10 p.m. on school nights and 12.30 a.m. on week ends. She now has her dates pick her up at 6.30 p.m. Isn't this a little too early? She says if she has to be in at 10 she has to get an early start. Do you think this is proper?

PARENTS OF POPULAR GIRL

DEAR PARENTS: She may be getting an "early start" for a sad finish. I would not permit a high school girl to date at all on school nights. Until her grades improve, midnight is late enough for weekends. And her date should not call for her until 7 p.m. at the earliest.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is one I have never told anyone about, but I need advice, so I'll be honest with you. I am 39, Abby, but I am passing for 28. I am engaged to marry a fellow who is 26. I am a divorcee but I kept it quiet because divorcees are looked down on in this town. Also, I was raised in one religion but go to another church because I like the people better.

My question is: How much should I tell my fiancé about myself? If a person likes you for yourself, are age, religion and past important?

SILVER BLONDE
DEAR SILVER: Age, religion and certainly a divorce are very important to a man who's asked you to marry him. Tell him the truth now; because once you are married and those skeletons in your closet start to rattle, they'll drown out the strains of "Home Sweet Home."

DEAR ABBY: When a girl asks a boy to a girl-ask-boy party, is the girl supposed to make arrangements to have the boy picked up and brought home? I just asked a boy to one of these parties and nobody seems to know how to go about it. We are both 14.

NOT SURE

DEAR NOT: You have asked him to be your escort. It is

Science Now Shrinks Piles Without Pain Or Discomfort

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain
And Itching As It Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain and itching. Thousands have been relieved with this inexpensive substance right in the privacy of their own home without any discomfort or inconvenience.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was promptly relieved. And while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of even 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—the discovery of a famous scientific institute. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppositories or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Chest Rejects Professional Fund-Raisers

Suggestion that Greater Victoria Community Chest retain a professional fund-raising firm was defeated at a recent meeting of the board of directors.

Justin Harbord, former Chest president, made the proposal in a discussion on Chest reorganization resulting from resignation of executive secretary A. G. Gilmore.

Such a fund-raising firm, he said, would ensure the Chest got a first-class campaign chairman and committee... would raise more money and the increased level of giving would be maintained.

"There would be public criticism, of this but the campaign would be successful," he said. Regardless of the criticism, we must do what is right and what is best for the Chest."

COST $30,000

Capt. Ronald Newell said it would cost about $30,000 to hire a professional firm.

Retiring campaign chairman Bernard Van Aggelen said a professional firm would "take the community out of Community Chest and would rebound to our disadvantage."

The Chest should face some hard facts, Mr. Harbord said. "We raised 92 per cent of last year's total and 78 per cent of our goal," he said. The new year does not look any better and unless we have something good we are in trouble; we might even lose an agency or two, who will be upset with agency budgets being cut year after year.

"We failed this year to meet last year's goal. If we continue like this we will raise less each year and the Chest will be dead."

At the close of the meeting, Mr. Gilmore was presented with an engraved watch by the directors for his work as executive secretary. He will relinquish his duties Dec. 31.

PROTESTS

Arrest of 30 members of his United Party was claimed Monday by Ghana opposition leader Joseph Appiah, above. He fears they were detained under Preventive Detention Act which permits detention of "potential undesirables" for up to five years without trial. By such measures president Kwame Nkrumah has rendered the United Party and other opposition elements largely ineffective.

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—old, first-grader—her name is withheld at her parents' request. The mother of the lone Negro pupil going to integrated William Frantz School says her daughter asked her what the women pickets were shouting about outside the school.

The demonstrators are down to a handful during blustery weather. But U.S. marshals still accompany the six-year-old.

DON'T BUY A HOUSE

Don't buy a house unless you are going to improve your standard of living. So many times people buy houses that are not what they need. It's got rooms and a roof but it's still the so-called "strawberry box." If you want to increase your standard of living here is the answer. A beautiful, modern, open-deck split-level home, designed by an architect who considered every important feature. Functional design—every room will accommodate you perfectly. The kitchen, dining room and breakfast area are so designed that you will have hundreds of steps. The living and sleeping areas are separate, yet there are eight beautiful related colors in the living room—e.g. there is a combination of wood, siding, panel, etc. in the house that puts the home in a class by itself. The bathroom is fabulous—the floors are beautiful ceramic tile. Landscape and sewer. I better stop here because I don't have an interest in this paper. But just one thing more—the monthly payments, down-payment and price are far lower than you might expect. Phone now for an appointment—we are at your service anytime—any day or evening. EV 5-2458.

BUDGET TAX CHANGES KNOWN BY SUPPER TIME

OTTAWA — Finance Minister Fleming was scheduled to start at 8 p.m. (5 p.m., PST) tonight on his "baby" budget speech to the Commons. After a review of financial conditions he was expected to get down to his taxation proposals—possibly some reductions by 9 p.m. (6 p.m., PST).

UN Deadlocked Over Congo But Operation to Continue

Rival Plans Voted Down

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—The United Nations General Assembly ran into a deadlock on the Congo crisis today when it was unable to agree on either of two rival proposals before it.

One of the resolutions, sponsored by the United States and Britain, failed by one vote to get the required two-thirds majority. The other, backed by India and a group of Asian and African countries, was roundly beaten.

The vote on the Western plan, directing Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld to continue his Congo policies, was 43-22 with 32 abstaining.

The Indian proposal received 28 in favor, 42 against and 27 abstentions. This called for UN action to get the release of deposed premier Patrice Lumumba and for neutralization of the Congolese army.

Canada for West

Canada voted for the Western resolution and against the Afro-Asian proposal.

After the vote, Hammarskjöld was glad as he told the assembly he regretted that it had not given him "the moral or political support" he hoped for in solving the Congo dilemma.

However, he announced that the Congo operation will continue as before. He said the failure of the assembly to act did not invalidate previous decisions.

The secretary-general appealed for continued co-operation of all countries.

Faced with the deadlock, the assembly unanimously approved an Austrian proposal that the Congolese item be placed on the agenda of the session that will be resumed March 7.

Stiff Attitude

The Congo voting came as the assembly sought to close shop for its long holiday recess.

The assembly Monday night heard a warning from Hammarskjöld that he might ask for power to withdraw the 20,000-man UN force from the Congo if civil war broke out.

Behind his legalistic phrases could be detected a steadily stiffening attitude as he declared that the force could not "interpose itself" or remain passive in a civil war.

In another development Monday night, the assembly adopted a resolution recognizing UN responsibility in helping to promote independence for Algeria.

However, the assembly deleted a key provision sought by Algerian rebel leaders and their Afro-Asian supporters, that would have had the UN guarantee the honesty of a referendum that French President de Gaulle has promised to decide Algeria's future.

NOW DRIVERS CAN SMIRK

EDMONTON (CP) — The pedestrian lost some of his Edmonton street-crossing privileges in a bylaw passed by city council Monday night.

It now is an offence for a pedestrian to either loiter or run in a crosswalk.

The onus is placed on the pedestrian to look to his own safety.

The motorist must yield only when he considers that his car endangers the safety of the walker. He is no longer obliged to stop when the pedestrian steps down from the curb.

India May Quit Congo — Nehru

NEW DELHI (Reuters)

Prime Minister Nehru said today India's contribution of personnel to the United Nations mission in the Congo may be withdrawn unless it is allowed to do its job.

At the same time, he criticized Ghana's suggestion for an African military command to take direct action in the troubled African state.

Nehru told Parliament that he could not guarantee to keep India's 800 non-combat personnel in the Congo unless they are properly treated and allowed to do the work they were sent to do.

DISLIKES NKURUMAH IDEA
Nehru said that if Ghana President Kwame Nkrumah's idea for an all-African Congo force was implemented, it would be "inevitable that other forces would come into play from other countries."

Nehru said India hesitates to withdraw her troops because this would mean the collapse of the UN operation—although "there are limits to what a country can put up with."

"I have a feeling we have arrived at the most acute crisis in world history and an acute crisis in the future of the United Nations."

Nehru repeated India's demand for a meeting of the Congolese parliament.

Burma Pulls Team Out

Soviet to Spend Less on Defence

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Russia ahead in the space race.

Novikov said capital investment in light consumer industry would be increased by 30 per cent in 1961.

Novikov claimed Russia again gained ground this year in its drive to catch up with the United States in industrial production. He said industrial output increased more than 30 per cent in Russia between 1958 and 1960 while American production went up only eight per cent.

Russia still is a long way behind the United States in total output, however. Novikov said that in 1959 Soviet production amounted to only about 60 per cent of the American total.

CARRIER FIRE PROBE

'Cheap' Wood Scaffold Defended by U.S. Navy

NEW YORK (UPI) — Navy Secretary William Franke said today the $75 million fire that swept the aircraft super carrier Constellation may force the navy to eliminate other ships in its current building program.

Franke made a personal inspection of the damage caused by a roaring fire Monday which claimed 47 lives and delayed completion of the 60,010-ton carrier at least nine months.

Three admirals were named by the navy to conduct an investigation of the blaze. Among the things they will try to determine is whether combustible wooden scaffolding which contributed to the fire was used for economy reasons.

Franke, after his inspection, said the navy was faced with two alternatives—asking Congress for more money to repair the Constellation, or curtailing the building of other vessels.

Rear Admiral Schuyler N. Pyne, commander of the navy yard, told reporters the navy's decision to use wooden scaffolding was "made many years ago."

"It has always been used on navy ships," Pyne said.

Public Hearings Open Wednesday

Franke said he was "firmly convinced that there was nothing suspicious about the fire."

The navy said it hoped to begin public hearings on the disaster Wednesday.

Pyne said 154 civilian workers at the navy yard were injured in the fire, which was extinguished early today. He said his figure did not include New York firemen who were injured or were killed by smoke.

The navy estimated in Washington it would take at least nine months' additional time to put the Constellation into the fleet. Originally, the carrier was to be commissioned next May but the fire pushed this date ahead until at least February, 1962, the navy said.

The maze of wooden scaffolding on the galley decks and hangar of the huge attack carrier, which was being out-fitted for commissioning next spring, was set afire by acetylene torch sparks landing in spilled diesel oil instead of jet fuel, as the navy originally announced.

A spokesman said today the oil was used to operate generators that provide electric power for the ship.

SHE MAILED EVERYTHING

CALGARY (CP)—At Christmas anything can happen and little is left to surprise the post office. Along with dead letters and wrongly addressed cards, Calgary post office workers also have a woman's purse.

The woman, apparently in a rush to get her late-mailed cards on their way, mailed everything she had in hands, including her purse, her light bill and her gas bill.

'CHILDREN OF INDIA'

Waits Will Bless You

A procession of wretched, ragged children is stretching out to you.

Some bear crutches; many have scabies; all are thin and hungry.

They are quiet children. The abuse of society on their short lives has already taken a stunning toll. Starvation saps energy and life itself.

These are India's waifs, millions of them.

So-called self-made persons might ask "why" the country itself can't look after its own obligations relating to poor youngsters.

The answer is simple: Until India learns to pull itself up by the proverbial boot-strap in a self-help program, the innumerable impoverished and sick will not only remain, but will increase along with the burgeoning population.

The Times is turning over money donated by Greater Victorians to the Unitarian Service Committee to assist in bringing about self-help.

Children are cleaned, fed, housed, taught and administered medically. From this program is springing leaders who will tell their fellow-men how to obtain a higher living standard, how to work it and how to keep it.

India is wealthiest in one thing: people, better than 400,000,000. Until this resource is fully utilized no maize-field concept of self-help is going to be of much importance.

Waiting still to be tapped are as yet unheard-of industries, and the complete thinking development of the people. Contributing to leadership is the USC, and those who give to the current appeal.

It all reflects back on the children. As these go, so goes one-seventh of the world's population.

And, Christmas is coming. Food provided by a Christian for a Christian, is of no more value than food provided by a Christian to a Hindu.

And there are also Christian children in India who ache from hunger pangs.

You can, if you care, give the USC way—undenominational, internationally, humanely.

A child will bless you, and Canada, and God.

There are just eight days left to contribute to the Times Children of India Fund.

Last year close to $7,000 was raised and it is hoped to exceed this amount in the present campaign.

Cheques and money can be sent to the Times offices at 1215 Broad or 2631 Douglas.

Winter Works 'Patchwork'
Job Solution House Told
(From Times News Service)

OTTAWA—Eight black bound books tell the story of the government's $30,000,000 winter works program to fight seasonal unemployment in Canada.

Labor Minister Starr kept them arrayed neatly before him as he defended the winter works estimate in the Commons against a "we-like-it-but" attack from Liberals and CCF critics.

The books, said Mr. Starr, show "exactly what has been happening in every city, town and province under this program."

The $30,000,000 measure—under which the federal treasury puts up half the payroll cost for approved works programs—was described by Mr. Starr as "the most extensive construction program ever undertaken in the field of federal, provincial and municipal co-operation."

"This measure is one of a series... designed to maintain economic stability and to provide employment," he said. "When taken together these

Municipalities Hardly Any Better Off

Mr. Howard proposed a special fund from which municipalities could get money at a low interest rate to launch projects.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker had no Christmas cheer for MPs who might like a pay raise.

He told members that no consideration has been given to boosting the annual indemnity of $8,000 for members of Parliament.

The government will prosecute bankruptcy trustees involved in estates and tighten up the Bankruptcy Act, Justice Minister Fulton said.

He spoke while asking for Commons approval of a $50,000 vote to pay for special lawyers and accountants hired to untangle irregularities.

Mr. Fulton gave no details and spoke only in general terms about the bankruptcy cases. He said, however, they dated from prior to 1957, when the Conservatives were elected. The RCMP was instructed to seize files. One prosecutor was originally intended to handle the court cases.

But when the department looked further into the cases it found "so many hundreds of estates involved," and the web so tangled, additional legal and accountancy service was needed.

Mr. Fulton said none of the cases of irregularities with trustees in bankruptcy was in B.C. He would consider if discharges from bankruptcy are given too leniently by the courts.

Provision of any new airport facilities at Vancouver is the responsibility of the city, Transport Minister Balcer said.

In reply to John Drysdale (PC—Burnaby-Richmond), he said that he still believes it would be suitable for his department to assume responsibility for the airport. The government had made a fair measures form the most comprehensive program of this kind ever placed before the Parliament of Canada."

Mr. Starr said it would provide about 100,000 jobs—that 4,589 projects worth $203,000,000, involving 78,000 jobs, had been approved, up to last Friday.

Lionel Chevrier (L-Montreal Laurier) said it did nothing to help distressed areas, a field in which the government "has completely fallen down."

Frank Howard (CCF-Skeena) called it a "patchwork" program forced on the Conservative government by the seriousness of the unemployment problem. He said the winter works scheme was helpful, but when balanced against high interest rates charged on municipal loans, it left municipalities hardly any better off.

offer—$2,750,000—for the city-owned part of the airport.

Vancouver citizens voted against sale in a recent referendum.

It will still require many years to achieve complete integration of Canadian Indian students into the regular school system, Citizenship Minister Fairclough said.

She spoke in response to an appeal by Mr. Howard for elimination of all special Indian day and residential schools administered by the federal government. He said Indian students should attend the same schools as non-Indians, and be fully integrated into the provincial educational systems across the country.

EXPERT in international law, Jean Desy, 67, former Canadian ambassador to Paris, died in the French capital Monday night of a ruptured artery.

INDIA VOTES DISPUTED LAND TO PAKISTAN

NEW DELHI (AP) — The Indian government rammed through Parliament today a controversial bill to amend the constitution and permit transfer of 4½ square miles of territory to Pakistan.

The bill was bitterly resented in Calcutta and throughout the state of West Bengal, where all shops and private transport closed for the day in protest. The transfer involves partition of the so-called Berubari Union, heretofore part of West Bengal.

Prime Minister Nehru agreed to the transfer in September, 1958, at a meeting with Prime Minister Firoz Khan Noon which helped bring peace to the disputed border.

CANADA LOSES VOTE, BUT

'Lost' Proposal Stirs UN

UNITED NATIONS (CP)—Although beaten on a procedural vote, the Canadian delegation can boast as the 15th United Nations General Assembly goes into recess today that at least it focussed some attention on disarmament.

Spokesmen for the delegation—badly trounced Monday in an attempt to get a prompt vote on its disarmament proposal—took the attitude that the fight wasn't really lost in view of the amount of dust it kicked up.

Indian Defence Minister V. K. Krishna Menon engineered the defeat by which the assembly's political committee turned down Canada's request for an immediate vote by a roll-call of 29 to 16 with 26 abstentions.

Non-Aggression Pact

PEKING (Reuters)—Communist China and Cambodia, Indochina neighbor of strife-torn Laos, Monday signed a treaty of friendship and non-aggression. Usually reliable sources said Prince Norodom Sihanouk, visiting Cambodian head of state, stressed that neither he nor his government is Communist.

Canada had hoped that something could be salvaged on disarmament from this session of the UN—that it would not be left in abeyance until the assembly resumes its meetings March 7.

Canadian diplomats felt that the spirited debate provoked by Canada's initiative Monday was a healthy sign despite the defeat. This was interpreted as one reason why the Canadians pressed for a vote upon

Rejecting Menon's charges that the Canadian resolution was "unrealistic" and "inappropriate," delegation vice-chairman Wallace B. Nesbitt said one paragraph in particular should be voted on to prevent a hiatus lasting until March 7. This section would have the

Assembly's 99-member disarmament commission "examine and make recommendations"

1. Ways and means of facilitating the early resumption of negotiations on disarmament under effective international control.

2. The essential principles which should guide these negotiations.

KENNEDY IN, OFFICIALLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator John Kennedy was elected president of the United States Monday—officially.

There was no revolt of Kennedy electors, such as some Democrats had tried to organize in the southern states.

The electoral college, 537 persons parcelled out among the 50 states more or less in proportion to their population, turned Kennedy's one-tenth of one per cent popular vote margin over Nixon into a substantial margin of electoral votes, the ones that count.

It's Murder, Mother

THE other evening one of today's brighter young girl vocalists gave TV audiences her interpretation of a song whipped out in the original production during the 'thirties by Ethel Merman.

By my reckoning it was a swell number, in the original. And Ethel could do it to it what Lou Gehrig did to a baseball. When she tied off, the song went sailing. We liked it like that in those days.

Some of us also liked the bright young vocalist who featured the selection the other evening. On songs of her own she does a sort of piquant job.

If you weren't familiar with the original, there wasn't much wrong with her treatment of the oldie the other night. If you were familiar with the original, you admitted her ability but were disappointed because she just wasn't singing the song you knew.

Stott

Perhaps a person shouldn't feel unhappy about that development. Popular artists have personalized songs since 'way back.' Bing Crosby, when he was still trying, used to introduce a special "Der Bingle" lit to a number—his own particular beat, or off-beat. That was his trademark, as much as a "boo-boo-boo." We were happy with it.

I'm not sure that Rex Harrison can sing, but he did a remarkably good job of talking selections, set to music, in "My Fair Lady."

The melodic vocal achievements of Jimmy "Schnozzola" Durante perhaps remain an appreciation—restricted solely to The Nose. But they're acceptable in the same way that Boy Scout concerts are enjoyable—so bad they're good.

You can name any of a hundred stars who took a song and made it his or her own—with or without music. Usually, however, they gave a form of recognition to the composer, though it was sometimes grudging. Most of them sang the notes.

In an earlier generation in England, Flor-

rie Ford took over "Down at the Old Bull and Bush." Albert Chevalier made "My Old Dutch" a personal appendage.

More latterly "Schnozzola," with no voice to speak of, did the same with an almost tuneless "Inky-Dinky-Do."

Then there was Bing, who did things to a song which made both it and him something special.

I guess the modern development of young people who stand before microphones and television cameras, appearing more impressed by the impression they are trying to make visually than vocally, was inevitable. Once in a while you listen to them and recognize a song. Very often they sing something that isn't a song at all—and since there's some doubt about their ability to sing anyhow, it doesn't matter much.

After all, Ol' Satchmo can take two buckets of gravel, pour them down a corrugated-iron-lined throat and send the Saints a-marchin' in just the way you want it. So maybe the kids have a right to try to do the same.

Nobody's kicking about them trying. But there ought to be some regulation which keeps their practice sessions off the picture tube and the recording machine.

They ought to have it made before they try to sell it.

Nor is there a great deal of music in finger-snapping youngsters wiggling before the cameras like grade school kids who can't wait for recess.

So they say youth must be served. Okay. But when it comes to what passes for popular music among some of the youngsters today, they aren't serving me.

That you take, or leave alone—depending on taste. Me, I'll leave it alone.

But when they pick up old melodies as dear to my heart as the old-oaken bucket, then in all conscience, I have to lodge my protest.

Give me barbershop. Give me corn. Give me even Guy Lombardo and his vocalists—but let's keep the kids away from the fine old songs we loved long ago. They're too young for it. The brew is too potent for them.

TODAY'S TRAFFIC TROUBLE TIP

'Fireballs' Are Bad Drivers

Steer clear of the guy with his eye on the boss's job—he's headed for a crackup.

Ambitious, a gambler, non-conformist, tending to rely on others and a whizz at the racquet club, this fireball is probably a lousy driver.

So says an American psychologist, Dr. Donald Schuster, of University of Southern California, where he has just tested 2,000 drivers.

The physically-active type with the burning drive—maybe a little ruthless—is accident-prone, Dr. Schuster says.

On the other hand, the scholar says, the best driver is typically: Married, between 25 and 35 and an ex-serviceman; an unaggressive personality who has learned to take orders.

To Dr. Schuster's findings we can add these sterling qualities: The best driver is mentally alert, patient, considerate of others, mindful of the horsepower under his right foot, knows his traffic manual, when to compromise, act quickly or stay home.

Inevitably, Dr. Schuster dragged sex into the picture by saying his study showed women were better behind the wheel than men.

But maybe it is only because they drive less, he conceded.

If you have any comments on traffic—beats, suggestions or questions—ask Times "Traffic Trouble Tips."

CANADIAN SERVICEMEN 'GIVE' A HOSPITAL

OTTAWA (CP)—The first shovelful of sand has been turned for a maternity hospital and baby clinic being given by Canadian soldiers in Egypt to Palestinian refugees.

The hospital and the clinic, one of the largest Christmas welfare plans ever undertaken by Canadian servicemen overseas, will cost an estimated $6,000 and will be entirely financed by the 800 soldiers of the Canadian contingent in the United Nations Emergency Force.

Part of the money is being raised by contributions from all ranks. The remainder will be raised by a one-cent increase in the price of a package of cigarettes and of a pint of beer. With the increase, cigarettes cost about 11 cents a pack and beer about 13 cents a bottle.

Colonial Quip Irks Mr. Green

LONDON (CP)—Says the Earl of Home, Britain's foreign secretary: "I am glad to say on that I agree with Mr. Green."

Says External Affairs Minister Green of Canada: "Then I must be wrong."

The exchange is quoted by The Evening Standard—with-out giving the particular context—in a story relating how Lord Home "upset" Green with what was intended as a "jolly remark" about Canada's former colonial status.

According to reports of the meeting, Green dropped the diplomatic niceties and bluntly told the NATO session that NATO must improve its "image" in the eyes of the uncommitted countries.

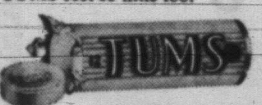

He told his fellow foreign ministers that when NATO members voted in the UN in support of Belgian and Portuguese colonialism, they could damage the alliance's standing in the eyes of the neutralist Afro-Asian countries.

Eager XI Ready to Go in Christmas Day Bowl Game

Alert, anxious for victory (but not necessarily trained) 11 little doggies have reached the six-week mark just in time for Christmas adoption from their nursery at the SPCA small-animal shelter on Wilson, just off Tye Road. The odds are 6 to 5 on the males, but there's nothing wrong with the weaker sex, who often prove stronger. SPCA also has selection of more adult dogs, ready to take up serious duties of running household, providing companionship for the youngsters. Any one can be yours in time for Christmas giving by paying modest adoption fee, which helps SPCA in its work.

New Proposals
Hit Deadlock

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—The United Nations General Assembly ran into a deadlock on the Congo crisis today when it was unable to agree on either of two rival proposals before it.

One of the resolutions, sponsored by the United States and Britain, failed by one vote to get the required two-thirds majority. The other, backed by India and a group of Asian and African countries, was roundly beaten.

The vote on the Western plan, directing Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld to continue his Congo policies, was 43-22 with 32 abstaining.

The Indian proposal received 28 in favor, 42 against and 27 abstentions. This called for UN action to get the release of deposed premier Patrice Lumumba and for neutralization of the Congolese army.

Canada for West

Canada voted for the Western resolution and against the Afro-Asian proposal.

After the vote, Hammarskjöld was glum as he told the assembly he regretted that it had not given him "the moral or political support" he hoped for in solving the Congo dilemma.

However, he announced that the Congo operation will continue as before. He said the failure of the assembly to act did not invalidate previous decisions.

The secretary-general appealed for continued co-operation of all countries.

Faced with the deadlock, the assembly unanimously approved an Austrian proposal that the Congolese item be placed on the agenda of the session that will be resumed March 7.

Stiff Attitude

The Congo voting came as the assembly sought to close shop for its long holiday recess.

The assembly Monday night heard a warning from Hammarskjöld that he might ask for power to withdraw the 20,000-man UN force from the Congo if civil war broke out.

Behind his legalistic phrases could be detected a steadily stiffening attitude as he declared that the force could not "interpose itself" or remain passive in a civil war.

In another development Monday night, the assembly adopted a resolution recognizing UN responsibility in helping to promote independence for Algeria.

However, the assembly deleted a key provision sought by Algerian rebel leaders and their Afro-Asian supporters, that would have had the UN guarantee the honesty of a referendum that French President de Gaulle has promised to decide Algeria's future.

India May
Quit Congo
— Nehru

NEW DELHI (Reuters) — Prime Minister Nehru said today India's contribution of personnel to the United Nations mission in the Congo may be withdrawn unless it is allowed to do its job.

At the same time, he criticized Ghana's suggestion for an African military command to take direct action in the troubled African state.

Nehru told Parliament that he could not guarantee to keep India's 800 non-combat personnel in the Congo unless they are properly treated and allowed to do the work they were sent to do.

DISLIKES NKURUMAH IDEA

Nehru said that if Ghana President Kwame Nkrumah's idea for an all-African Congo force was implemented, it would be "inevitable that other forces would come into play from other countries."

Nehru said India hesitates to withdraw her troops because this would mean the collapse of the UN operation—although "there are limits to what a country can put up with."

"I have a feeling we have arrived at the most acute crisis in world history and an acute crisis in the future of the United Nations."

Nehru repeated India's demand for a meeting of the Congolese parliament.

FORGET PEP PILLS . . .
YULE FEEL BETTER

LONDON (UPI) — Feeling low and depressed? Forget the pep pills or tranquilizers and enjoy Christmas, the British medical journal, Medical Press, advised today.

Christmas, said the publication, is a time when doctors' waiting rooms are empty, when neuroses disappear and "even ward sisters (nurses) become virtually undistinguishable from other human beings."

"Common experience teaches us," Medical Press said, "that the health of the community takes a remarkable turn for the better shortly before Christmas, and however flippantly we may record the fact, it is not without importance."

Medical Press suggested some of the reasons for the happy effect of Christmas on public health, saying:

"There is a break from routine and from work that is frequently enough boring. There is communion with the family and with friends; conviviality, jollity, with a certain ingestion of the most ancient tranquilizer, suitably disguised and flavored, but basically alcohol. There is the singular expression of generosity in dispensing gifts."

In fact, said Medical Press, Christmas is such a good thing for everybody it should happen more than once a year.

'CHILDREN OF INDIA'

Waifs Will Bless You

A procession of wretched, ragged children is stretching out to you.

Some bear crutches; many have scabies; all are thin and hungry.

They are quiet children. The abuse of society on their short lives has already taken a stunning toll. Starvation saps energy and life itself.

These are India's waifs, millions of them.

So-called self-made persons might ask "why" the country itself can't look after its own obligations relating to poor youngsters.

The answer is simple: Until India learns to pull itself up by the proverbial bootstraps in a self-help program, the innumerable impoverished, and sick will not only remain, but will increase along with the burgeoning population.

The Times is turning over money donated by Greater Victorians to the Unitarian Service Committee to assist in bringing about self-help.

Children are cleaned, fed, housed, taught and administered medically. From this program is springing leaders who will tell their fellow-men how to obtain a higher living standard, how to work it and how to keep it.

India is wealthiest in one thing: people, better than 400,000,000. Until this resource is fully utilized no maize-field concept of self-help is going to be of much importance.

Waiting still to be tapped are as yet unheard-of industries, and the complete thinking development of the people. Contributing to leadership is the USC, and those who give to the current appeal.

It all reflects back on the children. As these go, so goes

FISHERMAN RESCUED AFTER GRIM STRUGGLE

Alex Jackson, 53, of Kemp Lake Road, Sooke, was rescued Monday afternoon by a fisheries department vessel in Iron Mine Bay, near Sooke Harbor, 24 hours after the engine of his 20-foot troller conked out.

He was tired and hungry but in good condition. RCMP and the RCAF Air-Sea Rescue had been looking for him.

Water splashed on the motor caused a short-circuit about 2 p.m. Sunday. The fisherman cleaned the plug and points "then killed the battery grinding away on the starter."

He paddled the troller a half mile to a fish pot piling and spent a sleepless night keeping his mooring line slack.

Soviet to Spend Less on Defence

MOSCOW (Reuters) — The Soviet Union's chief economic planner said today that the country's defence spending would be cut next year to 11.9 per cent of the total budget expenditure, from 12.9 per cent this year.

But Garbuzov announced a 15.7 per cent increase in Soviet expenditure on science, apparently aimed at keeping Russia ahead in the space race.

Novikov said capital investment in light consumer industry would be increased by 50 per cent in 1961.

Novikov claimed Russia again gained ground this year in its drive to catch up with the United States in industrial production. He said industrial output increased more than 30 per cent in Russia between 1958 and 1960 while American production went up only eight per cent.

Russia still is a long way behind the United States in total output, however, Novikov said, that in 1959 Soviet production amounted to only about 60 per cent of the American total.

DRIVERS CAN SMIRK

EDMONTON (CP) — The pedestrian lost some of his Edmonton street-crossing privileges in a bylaw passed by city council Monday night.

It now is an offence for a pedestrian to either loiter or run in a crosswalk.

The onus is placed on the pedestrian to look to his own safety.

The motorist must yield only when he considers that his car endangers the safety of the walker. He is no longer obliged to stop when the pedestrian steps down from the curb.
